Boiling Spring Campground

By Susan E. Hohman

During the past 25 years, owners Larry and Gayle Helms have tried to consistently adjust to fit the needs of those choosing to spend their relaxation moments at their campground. Since it opened in 1991, Boiling Spring Campground has grown in both the amenities it offers and in popularity. Because of the success of their endeavors, advance reservations are now required to stay at Boiling Spring.

Boiling Spring Campground, LLC is a full-service campground providing family camping, as well as offering canoe, tube, raft, kayak, and Jon boat rentals on the Big Piney and Gasconade Rivers. In addition to boating and other water activities, plus fishing, wading and river swimming, horseshoes, volleyball, and picnicking are available. Guests also have the option to rent one of the four beautiful cabins on the premises, from May 1st through October 30th. The website states: "Our cabins are well maintained with heat and air, equipped with TV, refrigerator, kitchen stove, microwave, coffee pot, cooking utensils to include pots, pans, and silverware, shower and flush toilet." Three of the cabins sleep four individuals, and one of the cabins sleeps six. Mr. Helms declared, "They're great for families!"

Named for the spring—Missouri's 14th largest natural spring—that appears as a boil in the far bank of the Gasconade River, across from the lighted boat ramp launch, the campground is a natural draw for visitors. Those using the
