A fire alarm recently invented is a combination of the graphophone and telephone, says Science Siftings. In the use of the talking alarm one of the graphophone machines is placed on each floor of a building connected with the telephone fire alarm system. For each machine a record is prepared. For instance, the graphophone on the second floor of a building would contain the record, "There is a fire on the second floor," etc. This record is then adjusted so that these words are repeated into the telephone by the expanding of a thermostat whenever a fire occurs. In this way the origin of a fire is located immediately and automatically. The alarm also lights the electric lights in the building, sets a red light blazing in front of the building to guide the firemen and sounds the alarm into the street through a giant megaphone—so we are told.

The Doctor's Answer.

What causes paleness and weakness? It is lack of iron in the blood, and whenever iron is wanted in the system weakness is always the result. Now to those who are pale, weak and languid, we say, try H. F. Barker's Iron Compound. It is the strongest and iron preparation known to medical science. 50 cents at P. M. Mark's Drug Store.
