

DAN. GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Peruna Is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, of the Famous Ohio Family.

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy." Very respectfully, Dan A. Grosvenor.

Hal P. Denton, Chief National Export Exposition, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was completely run down from overwork and the responsibility naturally connected with the exploitation of a great international exposition. My physician recommended an extended vacation. When I felt almost a burden I began taking Peruna, and with the use of the fifth bottle I found myself in a normal condition. I have since enjoyed the best of health."

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

The Polite Professor. The palm for absent-mindedness should be accorded to a learned German professor. One day he noticed his wife placing a bunch of flowers on his desk. "What do they mean?" he asked.

"Why, she exclaimed, 'don't you know that this is the anniversary of your marriage?'"

"Ah, indeed—is it?" said the professor politely. "Kindly let me know when yours comes around and I will return your attention in kind."—Collier's Weekly.

FOR THE WORKING CLASSES.

General Movement to Better the Condition of the Toller.

The tendency of the age seems to be to better the conditions of the laboring classes. The proper sanitation of factories and workshops is engaging the attention of the authorities. Methods are being devised to moderate the effects of heat and cold on metalworkers in adopted as a precautionary measure in all the large works. Hours of labor are being shortened.

It is proposed to compel employers to give every worker at least seven cubic yards of space. All floors and walls will be so constructed that the dirt can be removed by washing. In factories, where dust and impure air accumulate in consequence of the nature of the employment, artificial ventilation will be used. The necessities of baths, changes of clothing and regularity of meals has shown itself on all sides.

In the public schools the young are being taught the art of being self-reliant and a complete obedience to hygienic rules. The government has laid before the riksdag suggestions and regulations for controlling the employment of child labor. The main point of the proposition is to forbid children under thirteen years to be employed for more than five hours per day. It has been thought by many that the working classes have formerly been neglected by the state and church. Strife between labor and capital is not much seen in Sweden. The workman is held in higher respect than in former times, and laws will be enacted that will make him a citizen in his lot and confident that the country is his, and that the interest with the same concern as that of the wealthiest nobleman of the land.

KING OSCAR'S RUSE.

How He Contrived to See the Face of the Turkish Minister's Wife.

King Oscar, according to gossip, is the only European who has ever seen the face of Princess Ermine, wife of General Cherif Pasha, who represents the Ottoman empire in Sweden and Norway. The general is one of the few Turks allowed to take his wife with him when serving at a foreign court. She is a princess, being the daughter of a former ruler of Egypt. Princess Ermine must, however, observe all the rules of the Koran and the Prophet while away from the land of her people. No gentleman has ever had the pleasure of meeting her, and all dinners given by the general to his colleagues he is compelled to borrow the wife of some other ambassador to "do the honors."

King Oscar, it is said, has always been curious to gaze upon the face of the renowned princess, for she is said to be beautiful, witty and talented. At a bazaar recently held for the benefit of the English church, the princess was given a private view of the rooms. The hour at which she was to pay her visit became known to the jolly king, who hastily made his way to the building. They met. The princess, seeing King Oscar, hastily concealed her face behind her veil. The king expressed a hope that the chance recurrence might not be considered a breach of the rules of etiquette. No reply came from the princess, as she is supposed not to speak to any man, but it is said the king was accorded a glimpse of the fair lady's countenance and a smile that fully repaid his trouble in seeking an interview.

THE WHITE CAPS.

Hundreds Coming to St. Paul This Summer.

The outlook for the success of the summer festival to be given by the Scandinavian singers of the Northwest in St. Paul next summer is very promising. That it will be well attended is already assured. Norge, a new society, organized at Lake Mills, Iowa, by John Storr, has applied for membership. Nordmennenes Sangforening of Sioux City, and the Grieg society of Canton, S. D., which has been sleeping for several years, has been revived and will attend the fest in goodly numbers.

The united chorus of the Twin Cities will sing Grieg's "Velkommen til den reiselystne." A rehearsal was recently conducted by Prof. Oulie, and it proved most satisfactory. About seventy-five singers were present. A festival orchestra of sixty pieces is being formed by Prof. Selling of St. Paul.

A Growing Order.

A third lodge of the Independent Order of the Sons of Norway has been established in Minneapolis. It starts out with thirty-eight charter members, and will have the East Side for its field. It will be known as Dovre Lodge No. 3. It is the intention of the founders of the order to establish lodges in the principal cities of Minnesota, and eventually extend it all over the Northwest.

The officers of Dovre lodge are: M. C. Engen, president; Einar Sholl, vice president; Julius Hansen, judge; Dr. M. O. Teigen, physician; Martin Wielby, secretary; Thomas Hogensen, financial secretary; John Tønning, regent; John Metlie, treasurer; John Meland, marshal; James Chulberg, E. d Lee, guards; J. P. Rian, assistant secretary; O. S. Gleyed, deputy marshal; Sam Elde, William Olson, Peter Peterson, trustees.

Famous Old Priest Dead.

On the picturesque Island of Gothland, in the Baltic, Father C. Bergvall, a famous old priest, died recently. Some years ago King Oscar was on a tour through the island, and stopped at the small town of Barlinge. The station was crowded with loyal citizens, eager to see his majesty. When Oscar stepped down from the car the people formed a ring about him. The old priest then stepped forward and delivered an address of welcome to the king in Latin. Oscar listened, and replied in the same tongue. The father then stepped forward, and, stretching his hands over Oscar's head, called down the blessing of God on the king. The tears came into Oscar's eyes, and the crowd echoed a hearty amen to the prayer of the good man.

Bjerre, superintendent of education; Col. Schnaell, minister of war.

Death of Lars Oftedal.

A cable dispatch to Prof. Sven Oftedal of Minneapolis announces the death of Stavanger, Norway, of his brother, Rev. Lars Oftedal. He was sixty-one years of age. The deceased was, in several ways, a remarkable man. He was a gifted speaker and a forcible writer. He was well known in this country, from an extended tour which he took some years ago.

Postal Orders From America.

During 1890 Sweden sent 6,871 money-order letters to the United States, while from America came the large number of 82,44. Only since 1885 has it been possible to transmit money by means of postal orders. During this period there has come from the United States $14,250,000, while Sweden has sent to the United States only $2,600,000. This is a neat little sum that has found its way back to the mother country, and takes no account of the immense amount that is transferred by means of drafts.

The population of Norway Jan. 1 of the present year was 2,180,000. Some 10,000 citizens were found to be temporarily absent from the country.

Labor troubles are expected in Copenhagen this spring. The street railway employees threaten to strike unless their wages are raised. Upwards of 3,000 tobacco workers are making various demands. The building trades are agitating a nine-hour day, and the sewer laborers also demand shorter hours.

Emil Poulsen, one of Denmark's leading actors, has been compelled to retire from the stage on account of ill-health.

Commander Hanna Ouchterlony, the head of the Salvation Army in Norway for six years, has received orders from Gen. Booth to close her work in May and be transferred to another field.

The examination of Bankers Schmidt and Arntzen, begun in Christiania on April 7, discloses some queer financialing. Although Schmidt had no money, he subscribed liberally for stock in Arntzen, Schmidt & Co., and paid for them by loans on the stock pledged as collateral. Three times he worked this scheme, securing shares at par which were quoted at a high premium.

A. F. Lawsson has been appointed as Swedish-Norwegian vice consul at Salt Lake City.

Rev. G. T. Lee has resigned as principal of the Norwegian Lutheran academy at Glenwood, Minn., but will continue as one of the instructors. His successor as principal is Dr. Knut Gjeret, who is a graduate of the state university and has studied at Johns Hopkins and at Heidelberg, where he has taken his degree as doctor of philosophy.

IN A SAD PREDICAMENT.

Valet's Manner of Obeying Order Embarrassed the Young Couple.

Some time ago a young bridal couple stopped at the Gilsey house, in New York on their wedding trip, and accompanying them was an Irish valet who had been for years in the employ of the bridegroom.

The latter had instructed his valet not to tell any of the servants at the hotel that they were newly married and on their honeymoon, as the young bride was very sensitive and didn't care to encounter the notice and stares which would be sure to be forthcoming.

Notwithstanding these instructions, the young couple found that they seemed to be the center of attraction, and the waiters, porters and bellboys ogled the young woman until she felt positively uncomfortable.

The bridegroom, therefore, blamed the valet, and supposed he had disobeyed his instructions. Calling him before him, he said, severely: "Tim, I thought I told you not to tell anybody that we were newly-married!" "Shure, sorr, an' I told them all 'you wuzen't married!"

Physical Culture.

There is something more that exercise does in the way of adding to the beauty of the countenance—it gives clearness to perception and ability to think and talk well.

Physical culture demands all the attention that parents can give it, for training should, when possible, begin with the child, since the muscles are then most supple, and symmetrical development and gracefulness always result. Surely, there are worth working for.

A JAPANESE NOBLE.

Talks of the Amalgamation of Three Religions.

Tacoma (Wash.) Special New York Times: Some of the leaders of religious thought in Japan are endeavoring to choose between Buddhism, Shintoism and Christianity as the future religion of the empire. Others would amalgamate the best features of the several religions. One of these is Count Okuma, one of the heads of the Japanese government. In an interview reported in a Japanese newspaper he says: "The fundamental idea of Confucianism is benevolence, that of Buddhism is compassion or mercy and that of Christianity love. These feelings form the basis of all religion. The founders of the different religions knew their own people and their own part of the world only, and hence could not devise any system of teaching that should suit all countries alike, but they did an immense deal in the way of drawing attention to the importance of certain principles. For the multiplication of sects their disciples are responsible. Their interpretation of the meaning of the words said to be used by the founders differed widely, and each variation was perpetuated by special forms and ceremonies. What is most desirable now is to get rid of the superstructure and lay bare the foundation. Benevolence, compassion and love! Cannot Buddhists, Christians and Confucianists come together on these principles and work in harmony? This union may not be witnessed in my time, but it will come some day." Some of the Christian churches in Japan are taking steps to open a new divinity school to take the place of the Doshisha Divinity hall, which has been closed owing to a disagreement with the American Missionary board in New York, which supported it. Hitherto the American Board of Foreign Missions and the Japanese churches have been acting separately, but since the object is the same, efforts will be made to unite the two classes of workers.

A NINE-CENT MEAL.

Prince and Princess of Wales Dine at the People's Restaurant.

A touching incident, simple in its character, but invested with almost historical interest, marked the opening of a couple of weeks ago of the first of the poor men's restaurants which the Princess of Wales has succeeded in establishing in London. No formal ceremony inaugurated the opening day's business at the establishment founded by the Alexandra Trust in the City-road, London. Something much more telling than prosaic speeches, more impressive than votes of thanks, occurred to draw attention to the cooked meals which are served at a cost below anything previously attempted in London. One day the Prince and Princess of Wales, accompanied by the Hon. Sydney Greville, drove down to the City-road on a surprise visit to the Alexandra restaurant. Luncheon tickets were bought in the ordinary way at 4½d. (9 cents) each. Whilst thousands of toilers, workmen, factory girls, shop boys and needy clerks were consuming the luncheon provided in the big dining halls, the royal visitors sat down to a similar meal in an adjoining room. There were six in the royal luncheon party. Three courses were served. The bill for the whole party came to 2s. 3d. (54 cents). Needless to say, the presence of the heir-apparent and the princess in the restaurant was the occasion of a singularly interesting demonstration on the part of the people.

By a Professor.

A man's ideal of womanhood is generally poor knowing, and for this reason the following sentence from an article in the Humanitarian, written by Prof. Mantegazza, will be read with interest: "In order to approach to the perfection required in the future, woman should try to improve herself physically, morally and intellectually—three adverbs which represent the great human trinity, three gods in one god, the god of happiness, who is the perfect equilibrium of all our energies, who is a being who answers to all our necessities, who is a being who does not forget the body by giving everything to the soul, and who does not reduce man to the level of an animal, which eats and drinks and sleeps. Woman has always been and always will be, powerful—all powerful—on account of her beauty, and we poor servants of nature can neither dethrone her nor make her move by unaccustomed ways. Only we ought to extend the physical beauty of a woman to her heart and thought."

Farm Lost, Strayed or Stolen. The Bangkok Times announces that a large floating island on the Mekong or Cambodia river, in Siam, recently slipped its moorings, and has not been seen or heard of since. There were a number of trees three feet in diameter on the island, and the land was under cultivation. The owner has been hunting diligently for his property, but has not been able to hear any tidings of it. It undoubtedly went down the river with a freshet and has either stranded or gone to pieces.

Must Furnish Clean Cars. A railroad company which undertakes to carry cattle is bound to provide cars that are not infected with contagious cattle diseases, and if it furnishes cars in which cattle that had "Texas fever" have been hauled, without properly disinfecting them, it is liable for the value of any cattle which the shipper may lose by reason of that fact. The Supreme Court of Illinois so declared in the case of the Illinois Central Railroad company vs. Harris.

Drink Water.

The body needs internal as well as external baths to keep it healthy. To give the body an internal bath drink plenty of water. Two quarts should be taken each day, beginning with a glass just after rising and ending with a glass just before retiring. If you are inclined to stoutness, do not drink during meals or within half an hour before or after them. If your complexion is bad, nothing is more conducive to a cure than drinking water, either hot or cold, but preferably the latter.
