An Epidemic of Whooping Cough.

Last winter during an epidemic of whooping cough my children contracted the disease, having severe coughing spells. We had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally turned to it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—John E. Cleford, Proprietor, Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y. This remedy is for sale by—P. M. Mark.

If sweet young widows want to "ketch" some sweet-heart in the sunny tangles of their golden curls, they'd better take Rocky Mountain Tea. Great Medicine. 35c.—P. M. Mark.

I consider it not only a pleasure but a duty I owe to my neighbors to tell about the wonderful cure effected in my case by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I was taken very badly with flux and procured a bottle of this remedy. A few doses of it effected a permanent cure. I take pleasure in recommending it to others suffering from that dreadful disease.—J. W. LYNCH, DORA, W. Va. This remedy is sold by—P. M. Mark.

W. E. Black went out to Bagley on Monday morning, returning in the afternoon. Justice court business called him there.

About 60 people went from here Sunday on the railway conductor's excursion to Bemidji and Cass Lake, and all speak well of the delightful trip. Those going from Fosston divided, some going only as far as Bemidji and the others proceeding to Cass Lake, at both of which places an agreeable day was passed.

W. L. Hilliard returned last evening from White Earth, where he had attended the Decoration Day ceremonies on Wednesday. The program rendered by the school children and speakers was very impressive and Mr. Hilliard was well pleased with his trip.

The eclipse of the sun which occurred last Monday morning was observed by a great many here, smoked glass being much sought after. The shadow at one time appeared to cover nearly one-half of the sun's surface. In the southeastern states, where it was total, many valuable astronomical observations were made.

The ancients believe that rheumatism was the work of a demon within a man. Any one who has had an attack of sciatic or inflammatory rheumatism will agree that the infliction is enough to warrant the belief. It has never been claimed that Chamberlain's Pain Balm would cast out demons, but it will cure rheumatism, and hundreds bear testimony to the truth of this statement. One application relieves the pain, and this quick relief which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. For sale by—P. M. Mark.

A Lingering Cold.

Is quickly cured by Bunsen's Pine Tar Cough Honey. Also a specific for laryngitis, whooping cough, bronchitis and all throat and lung affections. Try Bunsen's Pine Tar Cough Honey today and you will be pleased with the results.—Ed. Ruud.

The Doctor's Answer.

What causes paleness and weakness? It is lack of iron in the blood and whenever iron is wanted in the system, weakness is always the result. Now those who are pale, weak and languid, we say, try H. W. Barker's Iron Compound. It is the strongest and best iron preparation known to medical science. 50 cents at P. M. Mark.

John J. Brelke, of Eden, who accompanied E. O. Fjerstad to Norway last fall, returned home from the old country this week well pleased with his trip and ready to go to work once more on his farm. Mr. Fjerstad expects to remain in Norway several months longer and may visit the Paris exposition before coming home.

Editor C. R. Martin, of the Bemidji News, came down the line last Saturday to let the Fosston boys know what a good time they could have if they accompanied him back to Bemidji the morning following on the O. R. C. excursion train. Upwards of 60 tickets were sold for Bemidji and Cass Lake on Sunday morning at this station.

Several sections of sidewalk in the business part of town are impassable on account of the new grades lately established by Surveyor Beim and the raising of several store buildings. It is inconvenient for the time being, but after the work is completed throughout the town the uniformity will add much to the appearance of our streets.

Someone said that they would not do the same thing for a hundred dollars when they saw Will Umland climb the slender flag pole over the town hall Wednesday. An hour afterwards, while doing what almost any young man will if he has some one else to throw the ball, he had his little finger broken by a baseball that he was trying to catch.

Mr. B. Skrivseth, a prominent farmer of the vicinity of Buxton, N. D., stopped in Fosston over Tuesday night on his way to Shevlin to look after a quantity of lumber that he had sawed there last winter. He also took a look over Ostrem, Hatleli & Co.'s Red River Valley wind stacker and was very favorably impressed with its working qualities.

In the days of knighthood every man carried a sword and was ready to slash his neighbor upon the slightest pretext. When friends met they grasped one another by the right hand thereby indicating peaceable intentions as each one thus gave up to the other his fighting arm. That is why we shake with the right hand.—June Ladies' Home Journal.

Dr. Morley—Specialist Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat, Crookston, Minn. (tf)

John Mittun recently received a handsome new sample J. I. Case engine and threshing rig, which are on exhibition by his place of business on Second street, a "Farmers' Friend" straw blower followed a few days afterwards to be fitted to the machine, but was so badly damaged in shipping that it has not yet been attached. Mr. Mittun will act as agent for the Case company this season.

Ostrem, Hatleli & Co. will exhibit their Red River Valley wind stacker on the fair grounds during the farmers' tournament. It will be in actual operation, one of our farmers not far from here having his last year's threshing yet to do. The stacks of grain in the straw will be hauled to the fair grounds and threshed during the tournament and should attract a large number of farmers.

Even though reports to the contrary have been circulated, we are creditably informed that the White Earth Indians' "4th July," held at White Earth on June 14th, will be ahead of anything previously attempted in that line of celebration on the reservation for many years. Crowds of visitors are expected from all localities and directions and Fosston people are cordially invited to attend.

O. Brevik, of Climax, representing the Northwestern Marble Company, of Crookston, has secured a large number of orders in this vicinity for gravestones and monuments to mark the last resting places of the departed in the several cemeteries in this vicinity. His company has an excellent record for creditable work in this line and Mr. Brevik is well pleased with his business done in this locality. He also says that he intends to remain here for some weeks more and can be seen or communicated with at this place.

A Follower of Measles.—In many instances a persistent cough follows an attack of measles. In speaking of Mr. Walter B. Beel, editor of the Elklin (N. C.) Times, says: "Three weeks ago I had an attack of measles which left me with a bad cough. I took several doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the cough has entirely disappeared. I consider Chamberlain's remedy the best on the market." For sale by—P. M. Mark.
