Index, Ada: Everyone knows what a farce the game laws are under the Lind administration. But everyone does not know that there are eighty-seven wardens in the state and fifteen of them are each allowed $100 per month salary and expenses.

In the death of C. P. Huntington, president of the Union Pacific railroad, the Southwest loses a man as prominent in railroad circles in that section of the country as J. J. Hill is in the Northwest. He was an energetic railroad builder and progressive in all his work.

A report that the allied troops have entered Pekin has been received from China, but appears too good to be true. If correct, the work of the U. S. Army in that country is nearly done, unless it becomes mixed up in the European complications that are sure to follow this trouble. Russia continues to show its grasping hand and indications at present point to possible wars among several European nations before peace is once more secured.

Bryan's followers have secured the adoption of state constitutions in the southern states, says the Fergus Falls Journal, which will permanently deprive 460,000 voters of the right to vote—which is guaranteed them by the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the United States constitution. According to the Bryanite theories it is all right to govern two-thirds of the people of the southern states without their consent, but to deprive the people of a franchise which they never possessed is a crime of the first magnitude.

The Fertile Journal, one of the previously strongest populist papers in the county, has changed hands. And why? Because Fertile no longer wanted a representative newspaper of that political standard, and sooner than have it continue to expound the unsound doctrines of that political party in their midst, business men have taken hold and will now conduct it as an exponent of republican principals. Polk county is getting to be more republican every day and when the results of next November's elections come in, the party that has held sway for the past ten years will see its finish in this county—and few, outside of inveterate office seekers of the party will feel regrets on account of the change.
