

Barren County Homemakers have enjoyed numerous trips together such as this one to Frankfort to visit the halls of state government.

During the 75th annual meeting, members showcased the wide variety of home making activities that Barren County Homemakers have implemented, including popular crafts and the ever-popular cookbooks.

As part of the 75th anniversary festivities, members in period-inspired costumes paraded through the annual meeting to recall the evolution of homemaking activities. One model reminded her fellow members that home canning demonstrations aided Barren County homemakers in preserving food for their families.
