

Sharing Memories One Mount at Time

By Steven Bridges

Firefighter Brit Berry, 2000 GHS Graduate, is opening a taxidermy showroom in Goldthwaite this fall.

The newly remodeled 500 square foot showroom will display Britt's work for the public to view in downtown Goldthwaite.

Located just south of the courthouse square at 804 Fisher Street, the showroom and workshop will feature many examples of taxidermy Britt has personally completed.

Brit has been a firefighter and emergency medical technician in Hewitt for over 10 years. But, his taxidermy business is the way he remains connected to Mills County. "When I retire from fighting fires, I plan to continue to service local hunters with Mills County Mounts," Berry said.

Brit has a special place in his heart for Central Texas whitetail bucks. "My favorite product in taxidermy is making whitetail shoulder mounts," said Brit. "Each one of them is a handmade work of art."

Brit spends extra time on each mount, making it special with competition style details. "I have watched deer in the wild so long around Mills County that I can envision how live bucks stand and hold their heads," said Brit. "I like to put a little special effort into each mount because I know it will be displayed by the hunters for years to come. I want to do the trophy justice."

As a special service, Brit will pick up any trophy for mounting at any area processor free of charge. He will also remount any antlers from a deteriorating mount. He can even mount pairs of sheds for display.
