Juniors
Makayla Suzumu and Isaiah Willis

Seniors
Dylan Ramsey and Taylor Middleton

The classes at Dixon High School met and selected their candidates for 2016 Cow Days Fall Festival King and Queen. The winners will be announced Saturday, September 17 at the end of the Cow Days Youth Royalty Pageant which begins at 10:00 that morning.

Each class at Dixon High School will be represented by a young lady and young man from their prospective class.

The candidates representing each class this year are:

Senior Class - Taylor Middleton, daughter of Darren and Angela Middleton, and Dylan Ramsey, son of Amy Hughes.

Junior Class - Makayla Suzumu, daughter of Heidi and Edwin Schuh, and Isaiah Willis, son of Tasha and Randal Willis.

Sophomore Class - Mylee Strain, daughter of Chad and Honeylee Strain and Cole Barnett, son of Crystal and Kimmy Barnett.

Freshman Class - Kelsey Chaffin daughter of Sheila and Glen Chaffin, and Ethan Reese, son of Kevin and Melinda Reese.

Those wishing to vote for a specific couple can contribute penny votes in donation boxes placed around town at Dixon High School, Homeplate Grill, Casey's, Shepherd's Drive-In, and Country Mart until Friday, September 16. On Friday the boxes will be set up downtown at the Chamber of Commerce booth at Cow Days for people to cast their penny votes until 3:00 p.m.

The Cow Days King and Queen will be crowned during the Cow Days opening ceremony, at 5:30 p.m. on Friday evening,

September 16 on the Main Stage.

The class with the most money wins. The winning class will receive 50% of their earnings back to their class fund. The runner-ups will receive 25% back to their class fund. That money will go to the school administration building where it will be deposited into their respective class funds.

Don't forget the Youth Fall Festival Royalty Pageant will be on Saturday, September 17 beginning at 10:00 a.m. on the Main Stage.

The 2016 Dixon Cow Days Fall Festival will be Friday and Saturday, September 16 and 17 in downtown Dixon. The theme for the 2016 Cow Days Fall Festival is "There's No Place Like Home."
