

Temp-Aire, Inc.; providing decades of service to Rice County

After more than 44 years of service to Lyons and Rice County, Temp-Aire is the company to call for all your HVAC, Plumbing, and Electrical needs. They have great knowledge and expertise that can save you money on your next service call or installation. "We are always training our technicians and staying up with the products with top of the line technology, so that our customers are getting the best bang for their buck," service manager Ben Timberlake states.

"In fact all of our technicians are properly state licensed in either Mechanical, Plumbing or Electrical and must have 12 hours approved training each year in their specific trade." Temp-Aire technicians have an average of 15 years experience in their trade expertise. With eight servicemen, that is 120 years experience working at Temp-Aire. There are no cities in Rice County that require these technicians to have the yearly training to maintain their licenses, but since Temp-Aire does work outside of Rice County where several other cities that do require technicians to have CE training. "This says a lot about the quality of the technicians you will get from Temp-Aire to service your home or business. Don't take it for granted that other company's have licensed and factory trained service technicians when its not regulated locally by the cities."

Rollie Timberlake brings over 40 years experience of Master HVAC, Refrigeration, and Master Electrical experience to field.

Steven Roberts brings 20 years of experience to the Temp-Aire team. He is a licensed electrician and plumber and can take care of any electrical job from large projects to small problems.

Aaron Basgall brings knowledge and experience to the business and has served customers with the Temp-Aire team for nearly 15 years with his journeyman HVAC license.

Master plumbers, Andy Wilson and Jay Stone, provide above and below ground plumbing service. Their trained expertise plus advanced, hi-tech equipment give Temp-Aire the edge needed to investigate and resolve both large and small plumbing projects as quickly as possible. Whether it's a plumbing emergency or new water heater installation, Temp-Aire is the service expert.

"Our sewer camera gives us the ability to quickly probe into a problem and find the best solution possible, which could save the customer thousands of dollars." Timberlake said.

Temp-Aire is also the sales and service center for ventilation equipment, commercial refrigeration, home air purification systems and ice machines. Providing sheet metal fabrication, their state-of-the-art plasma cutting machine allows them to turn digital images into three-dimensional products for ventilation application.
