BIG PIG: Jeremy Thraikill, who has hunted in Goldthwaite for 13 years, came across his first pig in Mills County. He thought it was one of his neighbor's loose calves at first. He estimated the pig at around 400 pounds.

Cooper Auldridge took this 13-point deer on his Great Uncle Mark Geeslin's place in western Mills County. Some points were small, but long enough to hang a ring, and one was a drop tine.

Ellis Geeslin, a student at Goldthwaite Elementary, harvested this 8-point buck at his grandparents' (Kent and Neta Geeslin) place in western Mills County. He was hunting with his dad, Brian Geeslin.

Hagen Greenway shot his first buck while hunting with his dad, Jeff Greenway, in Mills County. Hagen is a student at Goldthwaite Elementary School. The buck was a 10-pointer and was Hagen's first ever buck. It was shot on the Geeslin place on the Colorado River.
