ples were chosen and ordained, so are we,” Walley said. “Each person here has a specific calling and purpose that was specially designed by God himself.”

The short devotional was followed by an invocation by Zach Dale.

Class Historian Jared Woullard took the podium to present his reflections on the accomplishments of the Class of 2017 and also offer encouraging words to classmates and all in attendance.

That was followed by the Salutatorian and Valedictorian addresses from Shelby Cszaszar and Charlsie Hicks. Each of the three students’ speeches can be read in their entirety on pages 7, 10 and 11 of this special edition.

Assistant Principal Dickson then presented the class members for the conference of their degrees. Each student was greeted with handshakes and congratulations from Principal Bray and Supt. Breland.

The benediction was offered by Braxton Walker and then Hicks, who is also the Class President of the Class of 2017, led her classmates in moving their mortar board tassels and celebrating by throwing their caps into the air.

Graduates shared a few moments on the field together, before moving to the Wildcat baseball stadium to collect their actual diplomas and a time of cherishing the moment with friends and family and taking a lot of photographs to remember the occasion.

For scenes from that celebration look for our photo pages later in this edition and also see the galleries from Commencement and Class Night online at www.greencountyheraldonline.com.

Sponsoring the 2017 senior class were GCHS faculty members Tyler Barham, Diane Box, Helen Breedon, CharLee Cook, Jeanette Cook, Kandie Ham, Paula Hensley, Drew Hollinghead,
