

Class of 2017 adds seven to Hall of Fame

Members of the GCHS 2017 Hall of Fame class are (L-R) Zach Dale, Cassidy Dearman, Shelby Cszasz, Charlise Hicks, Juli Burnett, Mary Grace Turner and Jared Woullard.

From Staff Reports

The time spent together in school, particularly their final one as members of the Class of 2017, will remain in the memories of this graduating class for the rest of their lives. However, for seven members of the class, their legacies will be permanently enshrined at the school as the latest inductees into the GCHS Hall of Fame.

Jared Woullard, Cassidy Dearman, Shelby Cszasz, Zach Dale, Juli Burnett, Charlise Hicks and Mary Grace Turner are the members of the Class of 2017 selected for this prestigious honor.

To follow is information on each new inductee provided by the GCHS Yearbook Staff:

Jared Woullard

Jared Woullard is one of the most self-motivated individuals you will ever meet. He has set the bar for leadership at GCHS. There is no one more respected by students and teachers. Jared has made his mark on GCHS, and his shoes will be hard to fill. His hard work, charisma, motivation, and humble spirit have forever changed Greene County High School. Jared Woullard will be a name associated with greatness no matter what his future may hold.

Cassidy Dearman

Cassidy Dearman is the epitome of class. She has represented Greene County on local, state and national levels. No one understands what it means to be a Wildcat more than Cassidy. She has proven her dedication to GCHS through the countless hours she has volunteered. Greene County is a better place because of the flair Cassidy is leaving behind. Cassidy embodies integrity, and she will truly be missed by students, faculty and staff.

Shelby Cszasz

Shelby Cszasz is the definition of hard work. Her devotion to a successful future is inspiring. Shelby's achievements at GCHS are numerous. Her giving spirit and selflessness has been the motivation for many community service activities throughout her time at Greene County High School. She is what people call a dream student. She comes to class prepared and focused. We know her path in life will be paved with success.

Zach Dale

One word comes to mind when you think of Zach Dale, unique. He has never allowed anyone or anything to define him. He has his own style, and has made a name for himself throughout our community. Through various extra-curricular activities Zach has been able to enact change in his peers. Zach has taken great pride in his responsibility as a school leader and has greatly influenced GCHS.

Juli Burnett

Juli Burnett has her own view on the world. She never lets other people determine her views or positions. She stands up for her beliefs, no matter the consequences. Her artistic personality has colored Greene County High School with culture. Her academic success proves that devotion and hard work pay off. Her ambitions for the future parallel with greatness, and no matter the path Juli is destined for success.

Mary Grace Turner

Achieving academic excellence along with success in competitive sports is a challenge for many student athletes. However, Mary Grace Turner is an exception. Her ability to perform well in the classroom and on the field exceeds many people's expectations. Mary Grace is recognized as one of the most competitive and passionate student athletes at Greene County High School. Her gracious heart and passion for life completely outshine the tough exterior she carries.

Charlsie Hicks

There is always one student who presents a challenge. Throughout her time at GCHS, Charlsie Hicks has challenged her classmates, her teachers, her community, and herself. She challenged us to be the very best version of ourselves. Her dedication has accomplished much victory. Charlsie is the ultimate role model. Charlsie's many accomplishments are a reflection of the passionate, distinguished young woman we have come to know.
