Harrah Police Chief Gary Morgan has been working at keeping the peace since 1997. Yes, he will soon have his 20 years, but no retirement in sight.

He has a good working force with 5-year Harrah PD veteran Tim Kyle as the code enforcement officer as well as animal welfare officer.

Sgt. James Waller is head of the investigation department, and is working toward his 10 years. He always has something going on, but manages to keep things under control.

Cpl. Jason Hall is a patrol officer and looking at seven years on the force.

These officers are some of the day shift including Lt. Calvin Peeples.

They are very dedicated to keeping the citizens of Harrah safe, and state some of them need to get along better to cut down on domestic violence.

Property crimes are their biggest concern and they always have patrols both night and day to diminish the theft of homes when the residents are working.

Their motto is "To Protect and Serve" and they take this seriously.

The Police Department is manned 24 hours a day, located at 1900 Church Avenue and can be reached at 405-451-1203 or www.harrahpolicedept.com. In an emergency always dial 9-1-1.
