

DECA students in Career Pathway Experience host spring tea

Special to The Clinton Courier

DECA students enrolled in the Career Pathway Experience at Clinton High School recently finished a unit on business etiquette, which included proper dining etiquette, how to set a formal table, the proper order in which to use utensils while dining and the correct way to introduce one another, as today's world can require that a business interview take place during a meal. Students invited special guests, many of them their parents and grandparents. The Career Pathway Experience is taught by Kathleen Foshee of Clinton.
