

Le Bonté Club members hear variety of program subjects

Special to The Clinton Courier

Nutrition, education and an illustrated seasonal story are among the subjects that have highlighted Le Bonté Women's Club meetings, with presenters sharing their knowledge and talents with members.

Special programs and services have been detailed through presentations by Sandi Herring, RDN,

LD, who shared specifics on the Dr. Dean Ornish nutrition program; artist Marijane Whitfield and reader Marilyn Disepo, who shared their storytelling and artistic talents often showcased at library and school programs; and former mayor, teacher and Le Bonté member Rosemary Aultman, who is serving as chairman of the State Board of Education, appointed by Rep. Phillip Gunn in 2013. She detailed various educational points, including the board organization, which is set by the legislature and is composed of nine members with diverse backgrounds.

Arteria Puckett of Catholic Charities discussed how the Jackson Shelter for Battered Families aids family members.

Drew Mellon, U.S. director of the Hard Places Community, told members about the challenge of fighting human trafficking in Cambodia. Hard Places was founded by Mellon's sister, Ali Mellon, in 2009. HPC deals with the children affected by the results of a war-torn country.

Belinda Peacher, who has been with the Florence Federated Florentine Evening Club for twenty years and has served as a consultant with the Hugh O'Brien Youth Leadership (HOBY) project for twelve years, told members about the program dedicated to empowering youth to leadership and community service. She noted that the program began in 1958, when an actor met a doctor and was inspired to start HOBY. One million service hours have gone into the program since its beginnings in 1958, when actor Hugh O'Brien was inspired by Dr. Albert Schweitzer to begin the project.

Le Bonté, the last women's federated club in Clinton, has supported the HOBY program through various service projects.

Officers of the club are Lourie Hollingsworth, who serves as president; Carol Pate, vice-president; Ann Wyatt, treasurer; Caroline Hoff, recording secretary; and Jean Jeff, corresponding secretary. Members are Barbara Keeter, Jewell Longabaugh, Ruth Ann Broome, Marilyn Hooker, Irmgard Martin, Betty Puckett, Becky Wright, Melinda Ellis, Paula Craft, Amy Flournoy, Paula Wimbish, Serena Calhoun, Shelley Purvis, Peggy Cudd, Janie Fields, Claire Barlow and Carole Kelly.

Clintonian publishes book on overcoming church conflict

Special to The Clinton Courier

Clinton resident Vanessa M. Cavett recently published her book, Overcoming Church Conflict: Confessions of a Church Girl.

"Conflict tests your ability to endure the race," says Cavett. The book opens by delving into the history of the black church in the United States and explores the role of Christianity. She reveals her own history as a Christian while giving testimony of her journey with Christ. Along the way, Cavett encounters the disruptive nature of envy within the church and details dramatic power struggles with deacons, missionaries and even knife-wielding organists. Cavett keeps readers engaged as she tells the tale of her journey to find the right church that meets her spiritual needs.

Cavett and her husband both come from large families and enjoy spending time together with their extended families. She is a graduate of Mississippi State University and Rhema Bible College in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. She received a Master of Arts from Mississippi College. She has taught English in both Michigan and Mississippi and enjoys reading different genres including fiction, non-fiction and inspirational books.
