Wisconsin golf legends to compete in Madison tournament June 23-24

Adapted from press release from American Family Insurance Championship

The reunion of three Wisconsin golf legends is official. Tournament host Steve Stricker and fellow Madison resident Jerry Kelly committed to the 2017 American Family Insurance Championship in April. Wisconsin native Skip Kendall has also signed up for the PGA TOUR Champions event, to be held June 23-25 at University Ridge Golf Course in Madison.

Stricker and Kelly became eligible to play for the PGA TOUR Champions when they turned 50 this year. Kendall, who played in the 2016 American Family Insurance Championship under a sponsor's exemption, qualified for full-time status on the tour earlier this year.

"I can't wait," Stricker said. "The three of us competed against each other as juniors, amateurs and then as players on the regular tour. Now, we get to test each other on the PGA TOUR Champions, and back on our home turf. It's going to be a lot of fun – and competitive."

Stricker, Kelly and Kendall are all members of the Wisconsin Golf Association Hall of Fame, inducted in 2006 and 2007.

Stricker, an Edgerton native, is a 12-time winner on the PGA TOUR, winner of the 2012 Payne Stewart Award, past player on the U.S. teams for the Ryder Cup (2008, 2010 and 2012) and President's Cup (1996, 2007, 2009, 2011, 2013) and captain of this year's U.S. President's Cup team.

In his first two PGA TOUR Champions events, Stricker finished second at the Tucson Conquistadores Classic and tied for third at the Mississippi Gulf Resort Classic. He played in this year's Masters at Augusta, Georgia.

Kelly, a lifelong Madison resident, is a three-time winner on the PGA TOUR and past player on the U.S. Presidents Cup team (2003). Playing on the PGA Tour in 2016, he advanced to the FedExCup Playoffs for the 10th straight year, one of only 16 players to do so. He finished third in his PGA TOUR Champions debut in mid-February at the Chubb Classic in Naples, Fla., and followed that up with a top-15 finish in Tucson.

Kendall was born and raised in the Milwaukee area, before playing collegiate golf at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas. He then hit the professional golf ranks, winning four times on the Web.com Tour, and earning 26 top-10 finishes on the PGA TOUR and three top-10 finishes on PGA Tour Champions. Kendall finished tied for 29th in last year's American Family Insurance Championship.

Other top professional golfers who have committed to the tournament include Vijay Singh, Colin Montgomerie, Corey Pavin, John Daly, Billy Andrade, Rocco Mediate and Duffy Waldorf.

Tickets for the American Family Insurance Championship are available at the tournament website (at www.amfam-championship.com), with special discounts for certain tickets purchased before June 1.

The inaugural PGA

TOUR Champions American Family Insurance Championship was held in June 2016, hosted by Stricker.

The second annual event will be at University Ridge golf course and will again feature an 81-player field competing for a $2 million purse. The no-cut event includes two Pro-Am events on June 21-22, followed by three days of tournament play, June 23-25.

Proceeds from the event are donated to the Steve Stricker American Family Insurance Foundation and the American Family Children's Hospital. More than $1 million in proceeds was donated to charitable organizations from the 2016 event.
