WARM WISHES — Peggy Rodriguez of Tiptonville made sure her great-granddaughter, 6-year-old Gabby Rodriguez, also of Tiptonville, was bundled in warm winter clothing, including a hat and scarf, before the start of the Hornbeak Christmas parade on a recent Friday night. They rode on the family's float through the downtown area along Main Street, delighting parade-goers who braved the cold temperatures and wind.

NIGHT LIGHTS — Four-year-old Trey Allen, who lives at Reelfoot Lake near Tiptonville, sat on his lighted and decorated four-wheeler as he awaited the start of the Hornbeak Christmas parade on a recent Friday night. He was among several young participants who braved cold temperatures and wind to participate in the holiday procession along Main Street through the town's downtown.

With Warm Regards
