Smithville, Tennessee

County officers made several arrests over the past week. Included in those taken into custody by the sheriff's department:

MARK EMORY JOHNSON, 33, was arrested for violating an order of protection when he was pulled over for having a taillight out on his vehicle. The deputy noted a woman in the vehicle with him and found out there was an order of protection where the court had ordered him not to be around her. TONY LEE PETTY, 53, was charged with violating an order of protection when he was caught by a deputy on the property on a woman the court had ordered him to stay away from. He was arrested at the scene.

ASHLEY ANN GREENE, 28, was arrested for driving on a suspended license, third-offense when she was pulled over by a deputy for failing to maintain her lane of travel. The officers found out she had two prior violations in Warren County in 2017.

The Tennessee Highway Safety Office is launching the second 'Safe on Seventy' campaign Oct. 23 and Oct. 26 to promote safe driving on the highway notorious for crashes.

'Safe on Seventy' to see increase in officer presence

On Tuesday, Oct. 23, and Friday, Oct. 26, the Tennessee Highway Safety Office (THSO) will join state and local partners for the THSO's second "Safe on Seventy" campaign to increase traffic enforcement across U.S. Highway 70 statewide.

"The THSO is pleased to launch 'Safe on Seventy' again this year," said THSO Director Vic Donoho. "This is a new, strategic initiative designed to target one of Tennessee's most problematic highways. We look forward to working with the Tennessee Department of Safety & Homeland Security, Tennessee Department of Transportation, and local law enforcement to decrease injury crashes and fatalities." U.S. Highway 70 stretches from West to East Tennessee spanning more than 500 miles statewide. According to the Tennessee Integrated Traffic Analysis Network Division, Tuesdays and Fridays between 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. have been identified as high-crash periods on U.S. Highway 70. Agencies participating in "Safe on Seventy" will collaborate during this time frame on Oct. 23 and Oct. 26 to combat distracted driving, aggressive driving, speeding, and other high-risk driving behaviors. Participating agencies will also increase seat belt enforcement and commercial vehicle safety.

Spending spree costs Valdez

A woman faces a mountain of charges after she allegedly went on a summer spending spree with someone else's credit card.

The woman, Regina Carol Valdez, 45, is charged with 29 counts of fraudulent use of a credit or debit card. She will appear for arraignment on Sept. 20 and is meanwhile being held under $43,500 bond.

According to Sheriff Patrick Ray, Valdez used a stolen credit card to accumulate over $1,000 in purchases from multiple businesses before she was caught. The amounts of the fraudulent charges ranged from as low as $6 to as high as $140. The charges were made in convenience stores such as Dollar General and Jewel's Market. The thefts also included

ATM withdrawals as well as a purchase from Pizza Hut. The thefts happened through June and July. The method by which she got the credit card was not revealed.
