Celebration

Kenzie Frances trots around the bases as her teammates wait for her at home plate to celebrate the home run she jacked over the fence in their game against Livingston Academy. In the end it was defense that cost the game as the DeKalb squad lost 20-18 following a seventh-inning rally by the Lady Wildcats.

DCHS SOFTBALL

 The Tigerettes were out-hit by their guests, 18-17 but were still able to maintain their advantage and even build on it in the bottom of the sixth as they plated three runs for an 18-12 advantage with just one inning to go. Doubles by France and Joni Robinson and multiple hit games by Robinson, Allison Maynard, and Kristina Bain and a three-hit performance by Megan Walker kept hopes high that would be enough to keep the dream alive.

The sun would set; however, on their hopes as multiple field errors proved to be the difference between victory and defeat. The Tigerettes committed a season-high nine errors, many coming late in the game as the sun dipped to high level, making fielding difficult.

In the end, the Lady Wildcats were able to score eight runs in the final inning and then blank their hosts in the bottom of the seventh to take the victory.

The loss, coupled with a loss at Upperman Monday, set the Tigerettes at 11-3, locking them into the second seed in the upcoming district tournament. They are 17-10 overall, counting their 16-1 crushing of Smith County last week in a game that saw Megan Walker smashed a grand slam homerun.
