

Stewart announces run for District 11 constable

I'm Mark Stewart and I'd like to continue serving the people of District 11 as their constable.

I have lived in the District 11 area for the past 12 years and have served as constable for the past three years. I am married to Donna

Stewart and together we have five children, 11 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

We are members at Friendship Baptist Church in the Rock Island area. Although I'm currently retired, I spent 35 years in the transportation business. Since retiring, I have worked with and enjoy a good working relationship with various public service agencies, namely, the Warren County Sheriff's Department, several officers with McMinnville

Police Department, the Rock Island State Park rangers and staff, as well as several Tennessee Highway Patrol officers and Tennessee Wildlife Resource Agency officers.

I have also spent several years working with the Rock Island/ Campaign Volunteer Fire Department in various support positions, as well as a licensed emergency medical responder.

I would greatly appreciate your consideration for re-election.

Dive into Swim's photo exhibit at Magness Library

Richard Swim has his first exhibit at Magness Library. His photography will be up for viewing until the end of July. Meet the man himself during a reception this Saturday, June 9, from 2 to 3 p.m.

Magness Library will be exhibiting the vintage methods of a local photographer in the months of June and July.

A reception for Richard Swim will be offered this Saturday, June 9, from 2 to 3 p.m.

"I've been doing this for about 20 years, but I didn't get serious about it until about 10 years ago," said Swim. "This will be my first exhibit. Every one of these photographs is unique and they are original. I couldn't re-create one the exact same if I tried because of the process that I use."

The show is called "Vintage Methods" and will include more than 40 photographs produced using vintage and alternative photography methods.

"In this exhibition you will see two basic types of prints," said Swim. "The first is the traditional black and white. It is a Silver Gelatin process, done in a dark room with the trays of chemicals we all have seen on TV and in movies. The second type is the Cyanotype. Invented in 1842 by Sir John Herschel, it is the classic blueprint. A chemical is painted onto cotton paper and exposed in sunlight."

Swim said he doesn't just take a picture. Instead, he makes a photograph.

"Making a photograph is an individual journey that has many forks in the road and is always unique. No two prints are ever the same. This journey involves taking the picture, developing the film yourself, then making an enlargement print. Throughout this process an individual style must arise. This is what I do. This journey, from shutter to print, for me is what I consider to be the difference between taking a picture and making a photograph."

Several vintage cameras used by Swim will also be on display.

Light refreshments will be offered during the reception.

Committee reviews budget for Warren County Jail maintenance

BY LISA HOBBS
Reporter for the Southern Standard
(McMinnville, Tennessee)

It appears the next Warren County sheriff will have to police himself, at least as far as jail maintenance goes.

The county Building and Grounds Committee met Tuesday to review the proposed budget for the upcoming fiscal year's custodial expense, as well as a lease agreement with Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation for its Groundwater Protection office located within the Warren County Administrative building.

Chairman Carl E. Bouldin informed the committee the county plans to provide the Sheriff's Department with $50,000 so it can handle its own building maintenance issues and alleviate the demand on the county's only maintenance person, Greg Bowdoin.

"The plan is to transfer $50,000 from our building maintenance budget and place it into the jail's budget," said Bouldin. "The new jail supervisor and sheriff will be told to handle their own building maintenance."

Bouldin says the decision was made after discussions with County Executive Herschel Wells.

"I've talked to Herschel about it and every time something needs done over there, they call Greg," said Bouldin. "It's getting to be too much on him. This way they can handle their own maintenance issues. We'll still take care of anything outside the building, such as the air conditioner. This $50,000 will be for issues inside the building."

The announcement came after Bowdoin requested a $1 increase on his hourly salary due to the increased responsibilities.

"I've been here for 14 years," he said. "My job responsibilities keep increasing. I'm a department director. It's just me in the department, but I am the head of it. I think some people forget that. I asked for a $1 raise a few years back and it didn't go anywhere. I thought I'd ask again and see what happens."

When informed about the change in budget, Bowdoin said taking the jail off his list of responsibilities would help him out greatly. However, he didn't rescind his salary increase request.

Committee members approved the request and agreed to include the $1 increase when the building maintenance budget comes under review.

"I don't have a problem with it," said Bouldin. "I wish we could give every employee a $1 raise. I know Greg does a good job. I don't know how you do all you do. All we can do is include it and send it to Budget and Finance. It will be up to that committee if it stays in the budget."

The custodial budget of $236,954, as well as a one-year lease agreement with the state for $150 a month for the TDEC office, were unanimously approved.

All budgets must be presented to the county Budget and Finance Committee for consideration.
