Sherrill wins Exchangite of the Year

Longtime Exchange Club member Duane Sherrill was recently recognized as Noon Exchange Club of McMinnville's Exchangite of the Year.

Exchangite of the Year is awarded to the member who has done the most for the club in the past year. This award recognizes someone who has gone above and beyond to promote the club's programs of service, which include Americanism, Child Abuse Prevention, Youth Initiatives and Community Service.

Sherrill is a charter member of Noon Exchange, which was founded in January, 1992. He has served as club president multiple times and in roles with the Tennessee District, including his current role as District Board of Directors representative for the clubs in McMinnville, Murfreesboro and Wilson County. He has also been recognized on a national level for his work on building Exchange Clubs in the district.

Sherrill has a special interest in the club's annual Veterans Day Celebration, which they hold in partnership with the city of McMinnville, the Park Theater and local veterans organizations.

"I always enjoy our work with local veterans, getting to talk to them and hear their stories," said Sherrill. "It's a pleasure and a privilege to be able to honor the brave women and men who fought for our freedom with projects sponsored by Noon Exchange."

Shelly Miller, the 2017 Exchangite of the Year, presented Sherrill with the award and said, "Duane loves this community and he loves this club. He has mentored many other members to become leaders in the local club and in the district. This year, especially, he has dedicated so much of his time and talents to promoting Exchange."

Upon accepting the award, Sherrill expressed gratitude to the club and encouraged members to keep spreading the word about Exchange.

"Let's make this a year of growth for our club," said Sherrill.

The Noon Exchange Club of McMinnville typically meets on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at the TSU Nursery Research Center. More information about the club can be found on the club's Facebook page or by calling 931-607-4317.
