

Offensive fireworks

It was 13-7 entering the bottom of the fifth when the taxidermy defense stuffed Bell and Sons with a 1-2-3 inning. Bell and Sons had a strikeout, a grounder back to the pitcher, and a pop up to second base where Tyler Clark made a nice running grab.

There had been rain earlier in the night, but the floodgates really opened in the top of the sixth when Dreams of the Field unleashed its bats for a seven-run inning.

After flashing his speed on defensive, Clark showed his wheels around the bases by starting the inning with a triple. When the dust settled, the entire lineup had come to the plate and Dreams of the Field had built a 20-7 lead.

Bell and Sons had a home run from Jimmy Coasta in the bottom of the seventh, but it wasn't enough as the team lost 29-13.

Leading the way for Dreams of the Field Taxidermy was London Harmon with five runs scored. Farless, McBride, Brady Willis, Grant Yates and Colby Taylor each scored four times.

Leadoff hitter Travis Bell and Shane Martin scored three times each to lead Bell and Sons.

In game three, which went well into the night, Havoc scored at a blistering pace for a 40-27 win.

It was a sluggish first inning before Havoc awoke from its brief slumber in the top of the second. Cruz Reyes smacked a triple and was driven home by a Tyler Pomaes home run over the left-field fence. Tyler Field added a two-RBI double during the inning as Havoc forged ahead 11-2.

Layne Murphy got the Jeff's Towing offense in gear when he used heads-up base running for a rare inside-the-park HR on an infield grounder. Murphy took advantage of a dropped throw at first base and inattentive Havoc infielders to make his way around all the bases.

The inning also featured a two-run HR to right field from Caleb Newby and a triple to deep centerfield from Tyler "T-Bone" Myers as Jeff's Towing looked to impound team Havoc.

But it wasn't to be as Havoc stayed undefeated with a high-octane victory.

Jordan Sandlin makes an over-the-shoulder catch in left field for McBride and Sons to prevent an extra-base hit.

Trevor Womack splashes his way to an inside-the-park HR, darting through a mud puddle on his way to 3B. Womack and McBride and Son were victorious Monday night.

At left, Cruz Reyes legs out a triple Monday night. He helped Havoc remain undefeated with a win over Jeff's Towing.
