

Tasty treat

MIDWAY FCEC

Linda Fisher, Fran Farmelo and Paula Barnes were the hostesses at the Aug. 1 meeting of Midway FCEC. They met at the community center, with President Dian Greene conducting. The devotional was led by Jean Cantrell, with her thought of the day being "A Few Rules to Live By." The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Barbra Corun, and roll call was answered by 17 members naming a tree that produces a spice, fruit or nut. Linda Fisher shared a poem, "Time Gets Better With Age."

Sue Adcock shared photos of the many items she entered in cultural arts, receiving many awards. Elva Dean Bell, Jean Smith and Farmelo also received awards on their entries. Irene Fuston showed a box of Anchor Hocking canning lids in their original box. They were one piece and used only once. They sold for 79 cents several years ago.

Vice President Whitlock also updated the gold stars. Fuston read the minutes of the July meeting, and treasurer Mary Rubley gave the financial report.

Our members donated hygiene items for the middle school, school supplies to the Child Advocacy Center, can tabs to Ronald McDonald House and plastic tops for cancer patients. Cake, ice cream and water were served to the residents of McMinnville Boarding Home, and a meal was provided by the FCE Clubs to area firemen showing our appreciation.

Midway will enter an education booth at the upcoming fair, and will oversee the operation of the Country Store on Sept. 13. Membership dues were paid today by members. Rubley and Greene will attend the economics leader training this month, and our members met for a santi-panty workshop.

A delicious lunch of barbecue and desserts were enjoyed, with unique table decorations also enjoyed. The next meeting of the group will be Sept. 5 at 9 a.m. at Gondola's.

Magness Library and Community House invites book memorial and honorary contributions. Making a contribution to the library to remember a deceased family member, friend or colleague funds a memorial that benefits both the library and a community of readers.

A contribution in honor of someone's devotion to family or service to the community, or to commemorate a special occasion or notable event funds a tribute that will reflect your appreciation and enrich the lives of those who use the library.

Upon your request, bookplates are placed in the books purchased with your contribution and notification is sent to the family of the deceased, if a memorial, or to the honoree, acknowledging the contribution. To make a contribution, or for more information, call Magness Library at 931-473-2428, visit www.magnesslibrary.org or come by the library at 118 W. Main Street. Memorials can be viewed online at www.magnesslibrary.org and www.facebook.com/magnesslibrary.

VINSON'S CROSSROADS FCEC

Vinson's Crossroads FCEC met in the Magnolia Room for its July meeting. The meeting was called to order by President Frances Hobbs, and she introduced guests, Vicki Gibbs, Victoria Conley and Jessie Carson. Alda Bandy gave the devotional by reading Romans 38-39 and Wilma Davenport led in prayer. Hobbs led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Roll call was answered with "name your favorite variety of apple" with 11 members and 3 guests present. Treasurer Becky Phillips gave the financial report. Bandy gave a homemade box to all members and guests. Reading reports were given by Phillips and Naomi Smith.

Sandra Blair reminded members to fill out their State Project report. Phillips reported receiving a thank you note from Ronald McDonald House for all the tabs donated. Members signed thank you cards for the sponsors for A&R Day.

Wilma Davenport motioned to take money from our treasury to pay for the food for the Firefighter meal on July 31. The motion was approved. Hobbs reminded members all clubs are meeting in the Magnolia Room to make santi panties, with materials needed for the project.

Our next meeting will be Aug. 16 at the Fisher House. We will meet at 10 a.m. at the Centertown United Methodist Church. Bandy gave members a list of items needed by Fisher House.

There was discussion regarding the meal our club will be providing for the Sept. 24 County Council meeting. Members signed up to work at the Country Store during the fair.

After the Club Creed was read, the meeting was adjourned.
