Garner is certainly familiar with these types of games. He has operated two different comic/game stores in McMinnville and one in Cookeville.

I must admit my familiarity with games like Magic and Pokemon is extremely vague, although Garner took time to explain the concept to me Friday. Tournament games are 50-minutes long. Personal games can last for hours, or be over in a matter of minutes.

If you're looking to expand your card collection, Garner has a wide selection in which to choose. He has a grand opening scheduled this Monday, April 2, where Rivals Ixalan card sets will sell for $2.75. The card packs normally sell for more than $4. Garner says he'll buy and trade cards. He also has hard-to-find model kits for sale, including Gundam and Ban Dai models.

Comic books, a staple at his other stores, will be added to Dragon's Lair as Garner increases his inventory.

If you're just looking to have fun -- and who isn't? -- there will be game nights held at Dragon's Lair with traditional board games. For the wizard card games, there will be sanctioned tournaments on Friday nights, modern tournaments on Saturdays, and commander tournaments on Wednesdays.

Store hours are Monday thru Thursday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. The phone number is 507-LAIR.

LONG REALTY HAS NEW BROKERS

Veronica Matheny Patterson and Candace Womack Matheny have an interesting story. Veronica works as a dental hygienist, while Candace is a hair stylist.

Despite their different professions, the two sisters-in-law have dreamed of working together as one powerful team. Now they have their chance as affiliate brokers at Long Realty.

"List your house with us where you get two agents for the price of one," said Veronica.

Added Candace, "Our love of the complexities and intricate details of real estate inspired us to work as a team co-listing Warren County real estate."

The ladies say it was their goal to take their love of community and combine it with their faith, energy and desire to treat everyone like family that led them to real estate. They already have several listings and are eager to add to their selection.

The Dragon's Lair has ample seating for game playing inside its store and also outside in the new and improved lower-level lobby of Plaza Shopping Center.

If Veronica looks familiar, it's because she's a famous novelist with one book already under her belt. They both say they find inspiration in being working moms and they enjoy photography.

"Trust us, hometown girls, with all your real estate needs," said

Veronica.

RUSTY BUTTERCUP NOW BLOOMING

If you're in search of antique and vintage items, The Rusty Buttercup opened Friday at 1112 Sparta Street. Chris Foster is the business owner.

The store has all types of neat, old things. This includes decorative tools, a hand-carved pyramid sphinx, and classic furniture like the kind in your grandmother's home you weren't allowed to sit on as a kid.

Business was brisk right from the start with several items selling in the first few hours. The store, which is located across from Whitey's Small Engine Repair, may be small in size but it's packed full of merchandise. New items will be arriving regularly.

Hours are Monday thru Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The store will be open Saturday with hours still to be determined. The phone number is (931) 743-0630.

THAT'S ALL FOLKS

May your Easter Sunday be filled with happiness, hope, and spiritual fulfillment. Once you experience all that, give me a call with your business tips at 473-2191.

The Rusty Buttercup, owned by Chris Foster, is located at 1112 Sparta Street across from Whitey's Small Engine Repair.

The Rusty Buttercup opened Friday with a wide assortment of antiques and collectibles on hand.
