

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Get off me! Tiger running back Thomas Trigueros doesn't care Friendship Christian is the defending state champion as he gives a defender a stiff arm. His running through tacklers and having them "come get these hands" makes him Athlete of the Week. All winners of the distinction can come to the Smithville Review and pick up a free limited edition t-shirt.

For kicks

A goal kick goes soaring during the final contest for the U6 division of the Center Hill Soccer Club. The fall league will begin later this month.

Vols savor fresh start

KNOXVILLE (AP) — Offensive tackle Drew Richmond gave a two-word analysis of Tennessee's dreadful 2017 season, and that was twice as long as defensive tackle Shy Tuttle's synopsis.

Their comments exemplify how the Volunteers are trying to put last year behind them while savoring a fresh start under a new staff.

"It's over," Richmond said.

When Tuttle was asked to describe the 2017 season, he replied with a one-word expletive.

Yet no matter how hard they try to put it in the past, the Vols realize they'll never completely forget what happened last year as they staggered through one of the most disappointing seasons in this program's proud history.

Ranked in the Top 25 to start the season, Tennessee finished 4-8 and failed to win a Southeastern Conference game for the first time since the league started football competition in 1933. The collapse led to the firing of Butch Jones and the hiring of former Alabama defensive coordinator Jeremy Pruitt.
