

Relax with a game of golf at RiverWatch

Perched high above Center Hill Lake in Middle Tennessee, RiverWatch Golf Club & Resort stands as Tennessee's first 18-hole championship golf course designed by PGA professional Peter Jacobsen and architect Jim Hardy.

Each hole on the 6,900-yard par 72 scenic layout transforms the natural landscape into challenging, though encouraging, tests of ability for players of all levels. The spectacular design of this championship course capitalizes on the rolling hillsides and picturesque plateaus- an example of golf and nature at their best.

Memberships start at $700 per year while summer memberships costs $450 and range memberships $200. Family fees start at $550.

Riverwatch offers weekly junior days (and junior golf academies), senior days, ladies days and morning scrambles, the scrambles this summer on Thursday and Sunday. Riverwatch is also home to the AJGA Qualifier and the SNEDS Tour at Riverwatch.

A round of golf for non-members, during the summer is $25 although there are specials offered. Call (931) 761-8124 for a tee time.

For those who want to make a vacation of it, there is lodging available. The WatchHill Villas are in a dream location for any outdoors man or woman including spectacular waterfalls, state parks and lake; a stay here will always offer something to do.
