

Market in the Park

Harrah to host 7th annual Craft, Bluegrass and BBQ Festival

By Ryan Horton
Staff Writer

The annual Market in the Park, Pigs in the Park and Bluegrass Festival celebration has been scheduled for Oct. 6.

Harrah's Market in the Park, which is always hosted the first Saturday in October, is set to draw in thousands of art, craft, bluegrass and BBQ fans.

Harrah City Treasurer Patty Coleman says, this annual festival is a big success and continues to grow each year.

"We started a craft fair at Heritage Park in Harrah and had good feedback from the vendors so we made it an annual event," said Coleman.

After combining separate and successful Harrah events attendance boomed with hundreds of vendors attending and people

Enjoy a day in the park!

WHAT: Harrah's annual Market in the Park

WHEN: Saturday, Oct. 6

WHERE: Harrah Heritage Park and Amphitheater located at 1374 N. Church Ave.

DETAILS: The annual celebration draws in thousands of art, craft, bluegrass and BBQ fans.

coming from all over to experience art, crafts, live entertainment and great food.

"We have a bluegrass festival and bbq cook-off. We should only grow from here," explained Coleman.

MARKET IN THE PARK

Market in the Park will once again welcome artists and crafts people from all over Oklahoma and surrounding states with a full day of festivities Oct. 6.

The large park will be full of a wide variety of craft and art vendors.

The Vintage Trailer Show will run along with vendors from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. in the park.

See MARKET, page 6

Harrah's annual Market in the Park, Pigs in the Park and Bluegrass Festival celebration kicks off Saturday, Oct. 6 with events for the whole family to enjoy.