Talent contest Sat, Aug 11

Wipe the dust from those instruments and prime your vocal cords. If you've always liked singing in the shower, now's the time to scrub up your act and prove your talent.

You just may collect some cash for your efforts.

It doesn't matter if you prefer singing with others, in a group or play an instrument. There's a category for you, as long as you don't lip sync; that's not allowed. And it doesn't matter how old you are.

There will be a total of four age categories: 13 and under; 14 to 18; 19 and over, and instrumental only. So, there's no reason not to get the whole family involved. If a group contains performers of a wide range of ages, they will be placed in the age category of the oldest member.

If you're considering signing up, you better hurry. Grab Grandma and the kids and start practicing now, because only 48 acts, 12 from each group, will be accepted.

Cash prizes will be awarded to first, second and third place winners in each category of group and individual acts. First place will receive $100; second place, $50; and third place, $25. Not a bad incentive to get you out of the shower and in front of a microphone.

There will be no entry fee and those interested in participating need to call the night before the contest to register.

Judges from Hancock, Daviess, Breckinridge and Perry counties will select the winners.

If you've ever dreamed of seeing your name up in the bright lights, the Hancock County Fair's Talent Show might be your big chance to showcase your talent while getting started on the road to Nashville or Hollywood.
