ily group purchased the store in October of 2017. Offerings will include hand-dipped ice cream, refinished vintage, and other home decor and gift items with a country flavor, "farmhouse finds" and more. They'll also be serving up homemade breakfasts starting at 5 a.m. every day. "Opening day was great," Kendall says. "We're really happy about the community response. And people are really loving the ice cream." Although the hours, she says, may be revised as the owners see how traffic flows, the Sulphur Lick Store is currently open from 5 a.m. till 6 p.m., For more information, find the Sulphur Lick Store on Facebook or Instagram or call (270) 407-9423 or (270) 270-427-6806.

Students were busy this year, winning honors at state and regional SKILLS USA, HOSA, and FBLA events. Three blood drives were held, and student-created business plans were implemented to raise money for various charities.

The board also signed off on a list of personnel changes, accepting the retirements of Regina Proffitt, Teresa Collins, Jennifer Turner, Lee Anne Hammer, Veronica Reecer, Loretta Stephens, David White, Jonathan Poland, Heather Clements, Ashley Gerald and Pat Thompson. Current high school band director Paige Crowe is switching her role to Library/Media and, as previously reported, Gamaliel principal Kathy Taylor will become Director of Pupil Personnel Services, to be succeeded by current assistant principal Jessica McPherson.

The board also approved salary schedules and a tentative budget totaling $21,347,067. for the 2018-19 school year, and approved the first reading of an update to its 2009 search and seizure policy to authorize the use of metal detectors. Last but not least, the board celebrated young Gamaliel author Claire Myatt, whose award-winning "Ruby the Chicken Fashionista" was chosen from among 1200 entries and will be available to all on the website of Kentucky Educational Television. The Monroe County School Board will meet again on Thursday, June 14 at 5 p.m. at the Monroe County Wellness Center.

Southcentral Kentucky Community and Technical College (SKYCTC) honored 736 candidates receiving 2,278 credentials (certificates, diplomas, and degrees) at the College's Commencement Ceremonies on Friday, May 4, 2018. This represents the largest graduating class and the most credentials awarded in the history of the college. The ceremonies were held at the Southern Kentucky Performing Arts Center (SKYPAC).

"We honor each of our graduates for the hard work they have put forth to achieve their educational goals. We also pay tribute to the family and friends for the great support they give to the graduates," states Dr. Phillip Neal, President of SKYCTC.
