

Farmers' market, abridged version of Young Abe Lincoln next Monday at Dale LHPL

Monday, June 4 will be an eventful evening at the Dale Branch of Lincoln Heritage Public Library.

From 5:30-7:30 p.m., a farmers' market will be set up in the library's basement. The market is open to the public (children 14 and younger must have a parent with them) and will feature several vendors — including Holly Berry Farms (selling strawberries), Steckler Farms (cheese, beef, eggs and chicken), Barefoot Acres, LLC (vegetables), OBM Candy by Faith Schaefer, Pumpkins and More (lettuce, tomatoes and carrots), Tina Patton (baked goods), Denielle Carie (chicken and eggs) and Rachel Belt (assortment of various fruits). Purdue Extension will also be on-hand with information available for shoppers. Some vendors will accept credit or debit cards, but bring cash to be safe!

That same evening, this season's cast of Young Abe Lincoln will present a condensed version of the musical from 6-6:45 p.m. in the Hoosier Room, also located in the library's basement. The performance, which is being held in honor of the Spencer County Bicentennial, is free to attend and no registration is required. Children 14 and under who attend the show must have an adult in the room with them at all times.

Don't miss this exciting night of food and fun at the library!
