

A Different Kind of Reality

Backhoe operator John Sample, of Goodman, dons a virtual reality headset while in a simulation of an actual backhoe cab that is displayed on monitors in front of him, all part of a CAT SIMFORMOTION. The makers of Caterpillar machines and equipment were invited by Wesley Burrows, of Seed of Hope Outreach in Lexington, to demonstrate the work training simulation in front of the outreach location on Thursday, July 26. CAT Account Manager, Curt Meyer, pictured standing, was present to explain the features and benefits of the training simulation to local and area workforce training representatives. Burrows also invited area officials and those interested to preview the simulator and its real work scenarios of digging and moving dirt, also improving proficiency of operators on controls and applications for potential worksites.
