CCA students attend leadership conference

Special to The Clinton Courier

Clinton Christian Academy rising juniors Anna Catherine Markham and Taylor Jones recently attended the Hugh O'Brian Youth (HOBY) Leadership Conference at Millsaps College. Each year, CCA sends a student or, in this year's case, two students, based on an essay contest. The weekend was filled with messages on the importance of leadership, a community service project in Jackson, and making friends from all over the state as students are prepared to become better leaders, not only in their schools, but also in their community.
