

Mt. Salus Christian School celebrates Grandparents Day

Special to The Clinton Courier

Mt. Salus Christian School recently held its Grandparents Day Celebration. For one day each fall, the population at MSCS practically doubles as the school welcomes proud grandparents and special friends of elementary students in grades kindergarten through fifth grade.

The event gives students a chance to bond with their grandparents and show them all of their school accomplishments. Children who do not have grandparents available invite family friends or other relatives as stand-ins.

Every child has someone special to enjoy the day's festivities, which include a special program, refreshment, and a tour of the school facilities and classrooms.
