Moments in Time: Green County

This collage of images and corresponding text (sometimes edited) from Green County's past are from the book, "Images of America: Green County," by Kim D. Tschudy. These photos represent but a small sampling of the offerings of the book, which is part of Arcadia Publishing's "Images of America" series. Visit www.arcadiapublishing.com for more information.

1. A cheese storage building in Monroe. Typically, the cheese storage rooms were built into the ground to take advantage of the naturally cool temperatures there. (Photo from Linda and Elda Schiesser)

2. The Empire Cheesery was located at the east end of Juda. Today, all that remains of the building is the stone foundation. (Photo from Paul Matzke)

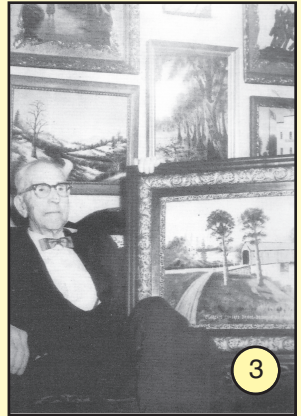

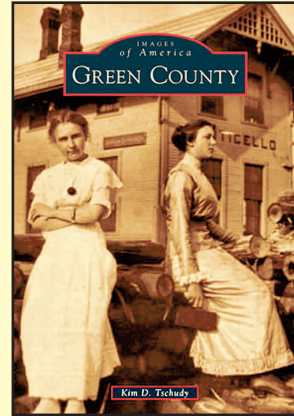

3. Painter Frank Engebretson, born in 1897, made his adult home in Brodhead. He became famous for his barn murals in Green and Lafayette counties. During his lifetime, he painted more than two miles of barn murals. (Photo from Independent Register Print Center)

4. Band reunions such as this one for the Albany Band in 1908 were commonplace in the early 20th century. (Photo from Albany Historical Society)

5. Switchboard operator Annie Binger at the Browntown Telephone Exchange. The telephone office was located above one of the local stores. (Photo from Browntown Historical Society)

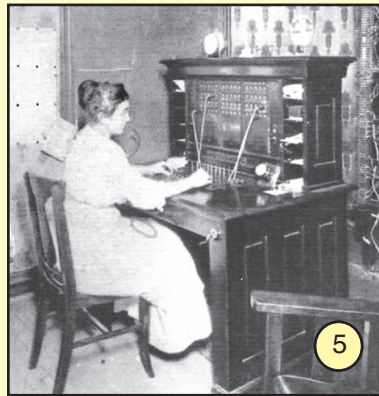

6. This 1934 photograph shows the Exeter Women's Rope Pulling Team. (Photo from Belleville Area Historical Society Collection)
