

STEM Learning With Hands-On Activities

Carnival rides, animals, fair food and entertainment are all part of the average fair goer's activities.

Add to your experience by stopping by the Learn By Doing Center in the 4-H Building and participate in STEM learning with hands-on activities.

There will be a variety of areas to explore each day. On Friday from noon to 2 p.m. come meet Paula Comeau from the Buffalo River State Park who is presenting "We need an-inator, a poll-inator!"

Local author and scientist Tory Christie will present from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday July 14. She will have a hands-on activity and be highlighting her books about Curious McCarthy. Curious is a budding scientist who uses funny footnotes to share her scientific observations in zany stories that feature her large and entertaining family.

Other events include building a wacky contraption, fly a homemade hovercraft, make your own snow, build a tower out of toothpicks and gum drops, and learn how gravity effects yo-yos.

These and more activities are waiting for youth of all ages.

Don't miss the rocket launch in the open field east of the grandstands on Friday at 5:00 p.m. is open on Friday and Saturday noon to 8 p.m., and Sunday noon to 4:00 p.m.

Who knew STEM exploration could be so much fun? The center
