

Lots To See At Natural Resource Building

There's a story behind everything that's displayed in the Natural Resources Building, which provides fair patrons a treasure of fun and learning.

With funding from the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's Clean Water Land & Legacy grant and funds from the Clay County Farm Bureau, visitors to the Clay County Fair will be able to find out what it is like to drive a tractor.

AgInspire, a non-profit organization that creates educational exhibits to teach kids and adults the impact agriculture has on their lives, has modified an actual Case tractor head into a simulator. The exhibit gives people of all ages an opportunity to see what it is like to drive a piece of farm machinery.

Outfitted with a computer, main monitor and an external screen monitor, users can drive down a field using the controls to till, plant or harvest.

A feature display of mounted big game animals from three continents, five foreign countries, numerous states, six Canadian provinces and hunting concession destinations will be ready for viewing. The best big game trophies accumulated from the United States, several Canadian provinces as well as the African countries of South Africa, Zimbabwe and Namibia will be highlighted.

These hunting trophies are property of Gene Prim and all were mounted by Don's Taxidermy of Barnesville.

A Wall of Shame display, courtesy of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, will be available for viewing next to the Natural Resource Building.

The Turn In Poachers (TIP)

exhibit is an educational display dedicated to curbing the illegal taking of natural resources. The non-profit organization also educates the public about the effect of poaching on Minnesota's game and fish.

Since its inception in 1981, this program has been a deterrent to the senseless waste of wildlife and is extremely beneficial to the DNR Enforcement Division.

Come and stop by the Natural Resource building on the Clay County fairgrounds to see what's inside. There is a lot to see, do and learn.
