Titans Have New Head Coach And Another Competitive Team Developing This Year

Bergstrom expects sophomore Makenna Anderson will replace Alexa in the middle, junior Corie Peterick will fill Mariah's position on the outside, and sophomore Madison Thornton will take over the right side in place of Samantha.

The Norman County East and Ulen-Hitterdal Titans will see a new face as head coach this season. Kari Bergstrom will be heading up the Titans volleyball program. Assisting her will be Carole Ann Holm and Tessa Nelson.

The Titans lost three seniors from last season. Alexa Mortensen, Mariah Stueness and Samantha Stueness graduated in the spring. The Titans finished with a 14-10-1 record last season.

Returning for the Titans this season are seniors Emily Theis, 5'5" setter, and Anna Knutson, 5'8" rightside hitter. Both seniors will serve as team captains this year.

This season's juniors are Ryah Opsahl, 5'3" setter; Brianna Thompson, 5'7" middle hitter; Alivia Mortensen, 5'7" outside hitter; and Corie Peterick, 5'8" middle hitter.

Bergstrom sees the seniors and juniors as being the team leaders this season. They bring experience and knowledge of the game. The Titans hope to grow as a team and to improve from previous years. The team asset for the Titans would be the chemistry they share, along with many returning players.

"So far I love seeing the drive to learn in these girls," notes Bergstrom.

Bergstrom believes Ada and Fosston would be the teams to beat in the Pine-To-Prairie conference. She considers them to have great players with some very good coaching.

"I believe that the Titans have a ton of potential for this upcoming season," concludes Bergstrom. "We have a lot of returning players and a couple of upcoming players that are really improving their skills."

The roster for the Titans this year
