2018 Beef Carcass Award

The 2018 Carcass Contest took place at B & B Quality Meats on July 31. The 4-Hers had the opportunity to learn from several people with experience in meat judging. The Beef Carcass awards are sponsored by Ward Feed Yard.

1st Place - Addyson Pelton; 2nd Place - Chancey Hauck; 3rd Place - Kale McCoy

Outstanding Boy - James Seeman received a watch presented by Sharon Lessard, First State Bank.

2018 Outstanding Boy

This year's Outstanding Boy Award goes to James Seeman. James is the son of Dale and Audra Seeman.

James was enrolled in beef, shotgun, crops, wood-working, photography, and forestry. James has learned to do public speaking in 4-H by giving talks at club meetings, 4-H club day, and Regional 4-H club day. James is a great role model for younger 4-Hers by helping with 4th Grade Ag Day and Team Fitting. He also enjoys showing his beef, which he is very proud of. Congratulations, James!

2018 Swine Carcass Award

The 2018 Carcass Contest took place at B & B Quality Meats on July 31. The 4-Hers that took part learned about a different aspect of raising livestock. The Swine Carcass awards are sponsored by B & B Quality Meats, Jim & Joan Forrest, and Barger Land & Livestock, Inc.

1st Place - Mya Hill; 2nd Place - Alea Makings; 3rd Place - Christian Murray

2018 Outstanding Girl

Chancey Hauck has been selected to receive this year's Outstanding Girl Award. Chancey has been a member of the Western Wranglers 4-H Club for 3 years. Chancey's favorite project is the beef project. She has a passion for raising and showing beef cattle. This year she has participated in 5 spring shows and took her market steer, Carlos, to the Kansas Junior Livestock Show. She also has 2 heifers and plans on raising her own show calves.

Through her projects, she has learned to manage her time better and to work as a team.

Chancey is the daughter of Chad Hauck and Melissa Chew.

Outstanding Girl - Chancey Hauck received a watch presented by Jason Murray, H&H Roofing.

2018 Outstanding Fair Helper

Wesley Koch of the Pawnee Peppers 4-H Club is this year's Outstanding Fair Helper. Wesley is the son of Joe and Michelle Koch. Wesley was just about everywhere at the fair. He showed a pig at this year's County Fair. Wesley went to all the other animal shows asking the superintendents how he could help. He also helped with Team Roping and Ranch Rodeo.

Congratulations Wes!

This award is made possible by the Michael Steffen Memorial of the Pawnee County 4-H Foundation.

Outstanding Fair Helper - Wesley Koch received a plaque for Outstanding Fair Helper, provided by the Michael Steffen Memorial of the Pawnee County 4-H Foundation.
