

BIGGS

I think we taught them how to work. They've been good workers their entire lives and I'm awfully proud of them."

The Biggs's sons are Brad and David, both brokers for Raymond James, and Jake with Helena in Sharon. Jake assists in the nursery when he has time available.

The couple who have been married 48 years, are the grandparents to six, actively pursue their passions of a fishing (for Mike) and a quilting (for Nancy), and serve as active members of First Presbyterian Church in Greenfield. To keep up to date on garden trends, they attend greenhouse shows, but Mike says the best research is what they see. During the summer, they drive around and look at what is doing well in people's yards.

For the last three to four years Whopper begonias have been popular because of their large flowers and the fact that they don't require lots of water.

"Around here you want to be attentive to what does well in the heat because our summer heat is pretty tough," Mike said.

Seems like the former educator is still learning ... and still teaching.
