caution – yellow – is one that requires delicate handling.

Finney says he has told more than one would-be buyer, “If you like school bus yellow, you like it. But that small sample chip you have in your hand is going to be a whole room.”

Finney’s love of quality is evident not only as he speaks of flooring and paint choices but also by the woodworking examples he displays in a small corner of the store located on Highway 22. His handcrafted simple trucks and colorful houses reflect a grandfather’s love for four grandchildren, including a newly adopted grandson that he proudly explains he recently travelled to Korea to help welcome into the family.

And, no matter what’s trending, helping to make a home a welcoming place is good business.

Nationwide trends have been focused on blues and grays for a couple of years now. But in this area of Tennessee, earth tones were most frequently selected. In the last year, however, more people are wanting to use the grays.
