from them. You're going to have to learn to be independent and be an adult after you graduate.

Kayla Hutcheson of Hornbeak

Parents: Mackey and Lisa Hutcheson of Hornbeak

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Always be kind to one another. Do not procrastinate. It never works out. Do not try to be someone your not to impress someone. Your real friends will like you for you, pay attention in class. Day dreaming and talking to your buds will get you way behind. Make smart decisions. Everything you are doing reflects your future. Most importantly, always have fun.

Kacee Isbell of Union City

Parents: Todd and Lisa Isbell of Union City

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember the great memories I made throughout high school.

Jarena Jackson of Union City

Parents: Corena Jackson of Union City and Mark Jackson of North Chicago

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Get in. Stay focused. Get out.

Aubrey Leighann Jackson of Obion

Parents: Shanna Sanford of Obion and Sean Jackson of Union City

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember how stressful high school is.

Lindsey Jenkins of Union City

Parent: Lorrie Council of Union City

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember the friends I made, and the growing up process I went through. It was a big learning period for me. High school is more than sitting in a boring class or listening to a lecture; it's much more. It's the memories you make, the people you meet, the over all feeling of "wow I'm in high school." It can be challenging. The world of high school isn't movie perfect like they all think. It has its hardships. It can be stressful, but it's all worth it in the end to see that diploma. I will always remember my high school life as I move to my next chapter in college and adult life. I will miss the friends I have to leave behind, but will always cherish the memories of it all.

Allie Johnson of Rives

Parents: Trent and Dana Johnson of Rives

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice for the incoming freshmen is to not freak out about high school. It is not that hard to find your way around and to make friends. Choose your friends wisely because if they're good friends, then you can get through high school. They need to participate in the school activities to make the kind of memories that last forever.

Thomas Michael Johnson of Obion

Parent: Tim Johnson of Cloverdale

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Incoming freshmen should realize they're freshmen and enjoy themselves, get all energy out of their system.

Hannah Johnston of Troy

Parents: Daniel and Michelle Johnston of Troy

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice for the incoming freshmen is not to believe everything you hear. There is no swimming pool, there isn't a third floor and there is no such thing as an elevator pass. But on a serious note, be involved in everything you can and have fun because these four years go by way too fast.

Alanna Jones of Hornbeak

Parents: Stephanie Jones and Robert Jones, both of Hornbeak

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? It goes by fast, so try not to fail.

Elizabeth Jones of Hornbeak

Grandparents: Terry and Kathy Reeves of Hornbeak

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice to incoming freshmen is to do your best from day one. What you do your freshman year will affect you in your senior year. It can either help you or it can haunt you.

Bobby Kehoe of Kenton

Parent: Rebecca Wood of Kenton

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Don't be scared. It really isn't as hard as everyone says it is.

Parker Kendall of Hornbeak

Parents: Kelvin and Angie Kendall of Hornbeak

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years time, I hope I have accomplished many of my goals. I hope to have my degree in sports business and having something to do with the NFL. I imagine I will be living somewhere I totally do not expect myself to be in. By then, I hope to have a family of my own. Who knows where I'll be, but I will try hard to get there.

Sara Jane Kendall of Troy

Parents: Keith and Deana Kendall of Troy

Question: What will you always remember about high school? Something that I will always remember about high school is the awesome feeling you get when you're surrounded by your classmates at a pep rally and everyone is pumped and having so much fun.

Brooke Nicole Killebrew of Union City

Parent: Christina Killebrew

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I hope to be graduated and have my doctorate in pharmacy. I hope to still be working at Troy Pharmacy with Kristy Totty. I hope I still have a great relationship with my customers and love my job.

Will King of Troy

Parents: Bill and Mitzi King

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? I hope in 10 years I will be working in some form of law enforcement.

Olivia Kuykendall

Parents: Shelly Lewis and Eric Lewis

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Don't worry about trying to fit in. No one is really paying attention to you because everyone is so worried about themselves. Your friends will come and go and it won't be the end of the world. Always try your hardest in all of your classes because every grade goes towards your high school GPA.

Jada Krietman of Union City

Parents: Jack and Molly Krietman of Union City

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? Ten years from now, I imagine myself as a mother and wife with a job dealing with kids.

Brady Ladd of Union City

Parents: Steve and Michelle Ladd

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? Ten years from now, I imagine myself working in a tool and dye shop, using a CNC machine, driving a nice new truck, owning a house and having a family.

Bryce Leverette of Troy

Parents: Emily Cox of Troy and Scottie Leverette of Martin

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? Ten years from now, I see myself either on a beach or on the water in the U.S. Navy.

Thomas Angelo Lobue Jr. of Troy

Parent: Rebecca Lobue of Troy

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Don't think your grades don't count because before you know it, you'll be stressed out your senior year.

Noemi Lopez of Union City

Parents: Noe Lopez and Lucy Lopez of Union City

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice for incoming freshmen would be to have fun and enjoy the next four years. Focus on school, but also have some fun. Treasure the moments with your friends, be nice to everyone, try your best in your classes. The next four years will go by in the blink of an eye, so be the best you can, but also have fun because after high school, you will be out in the world.

Rachel Maddox of Union City

Parents: Debbie Maddox and David Maddox of Union City

Question: What will you always remember about high school? One thing I'll always remember about high school is the friendships made during the four years there. At first, it's always hard coming from different schools to be combined as one, but you make more incredible friendships and relationships with people you might have never imagined you would.

Thomas Mathis of Union City

Parents: Tommy and Sandra Mathis of Union City

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice to incoming freshmen would be to enjoy the four quick years that they have in front of them. They will pass you by in the blink of an eye, so cherish every moment and make the most of every opportunity given to you. Also, keep in mind that the school is full of staff who care for you, so use that to your advantage.

Ebernay McCage of Troy

Parents: Mike and Paula McCage of Troy

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember the time I put on Daisy Dukes and cheered the senior girls on during the annual Powder Puff football games.

Jessie Miller of Troy

Parent: Melanie Miller of Troy

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Always do your best no matter what, never give up. Do not walk slow in the hallways, upperclassmen will run over you. Take high school serious, you'll miss it.

Keenan Miller of Union City

Parents: Dr. Johnny and Tonna Miller

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I hope to have graduated from UTM with a bachelor's degree in biology and to be graduated from dental school. I will return to Union City to take over my father's practice and carry on my life in my hometown.

Lilly Moore of Rives

Parents: the late Cathy and Melvin Moore

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I see myself practicing law in Nashville. I wish to practice in a big city. One day after I practice law under someone's "wing," I wish to open up my own law office.

Brady Moore of Troy

Parents: Amber and Ben Howell of Troy

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? I want to be a drill sergeant in the Tennessee Army National Guard.

Matthew Colby Moorman of Obion

Parents: LeeAnn Moorman of Obion and Dane Moorman of Greenville, Miss.

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? Ten years from now, I see myself being a great welder with a bunch of money and two kids.

Jose Morales of Union City

Parents: Miguel and Juana Morales of Union City

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I plan on being the owner of my own mechanics shop. I plan on being close to being married and on having the house in which my family will be raised.

Ivey Moran of Union City

Parents: Cynthia Baggett of Union City and William Moran of Obion

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? As I leave high school, I feel like I've learned so much. Most things I had to figure out myself, others were told to me from upperclassmen. My advice for incoming freshmen is to get involved. Join clubs, play sports, run for class president, do as many things to get you out of your comfort zone. Make as many friends as you can. This will make your high school experience more enjoyable. Make sure you don't slack on school work and overall have a positive, open-minded attitude towards everything.

Cecilee Allene Morris of Troy

Parents: Janet Morris and Carey Morris

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? I imagine myself in another country helping the least of these as a translator, interpreter or Peace Corps worker, as God as my leader.

Shelby Mosley of Union City

Parents: Mark and Anna Mosley of Union City

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Don't be afraid to stand out. Love yourself, no matter what anyone says to you. Do not wish it away, it goes by fast and you will wish you could start over.

Tyler Mosley of Hornbeak

Parents: Brandy and Coday Finch of Hornbeak

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? To all incoming freshmen, do not stress. High school is not as scary as it seems. As long as you put your mind to your work and apply yourself, you will do just fine. Try to get involved, but even if you don't, you will be okay. Remember, though, always be nice to everyone you come in contact with in school, whether it's a student or faculty member. Always hold your head up and never think you are too good to do anything. You've got this!

Haley Mullins of Union City

Parents: Jessica Ward of Union City and Michael English of Bradford

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Don't skip, it hurts your grades and will catch up with you eventually.

Mackenzie Muse of Hornbeak

Parents: Alicia Petty of Hornbeak and Jesse Muse of Troy

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Enjoy all the time you have in high school because, believe me, it's going to fly by. Don't stress the smallest things.

Audrey Myers of Troy

Parents: Amy and Rodney Myers of Troy

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will remember a lot about high school. The most I will remember all the memories with my friends, prom, football games and much more. High school will always be my favorite memories ever.

Zackary Narr of Troy

Parents: Jackie Narr and Terry Narr of Troy

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Be the best you can be. Four years may seem like a long time, but it will be over faster than you can imagine, so enjoy the time you have.

Emylee Osborne of Obion

Parent: Brian Osborne of Obion

Question: What will you always remember about high school? What I will always remember about high school are the people because I have met many cool and good people in this school. Most of the people here are kind of weird, but we all mainly get along. Central, being such a big school, it's hard to know everyone. The people or friends you do meet is one of the best things about high school. Meeting new people and becoming close with them.

Kari O'Steen of Union City

Parent: Barbara O'Steen of Union City

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember the great memories I made with my friends and teammates. Making good grades and studying hard is important, but so is having fun.

Lyndsey Patterson of Obion

Parents: Crystal Gibson Crain and Stephen Crain

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Listen to your teachers. Do not be the person who tries to be the class clown and ends up ruining the class for everyone. Also, do not walk in the middle of the hallway, nor walk slowly; it really annoys upperclassmen who are trying to get to class. Do not rush high school because before you know it, you will be walking across the stage, getting your diploma. Cherish your time; cherish being young. Make friends and memories that you'll never forget.

Haylie Pride of Union City

Parents: Torey Pride and Marjie Pride of Union City

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice for incoming freshmen is for them to do their work seriously. You think you don't care, but you will senior year. Also, for the love of God, come to school. Attendance is more important than you think!

Kylie Porch of Troy

Parents: Larry Porch and Sherry Moore

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? I imagine I will be traveling the world as a nurse with a loving husband and children. I imagine visiting every state in the United States and impacting each person's life that I cross paths with.

Hagan Payne of Rives

Parents: Matt and Fran Payne of Rives

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will always remember the memories I made at this school. I will remember the feeling before running out of the tunnel and onto the football field. I will also remember winning a national championship my junior year. The friends I have made and the good times we had will never be forgotten. I will never forget going to playoffs my senior year and beating Dyersburg the third week of the season.

Britney Payne of Rives

Parents: Matt and Fran Payne of Rives

Question: What will you always remember about high school? There are many things I will remember about high school. High school was not always the greatest place to be, but it contained many great memories with good people. My favorite thing during high school was cheering on the Rebel football boys! A memory that will last forever is when my JV co-ed cheer team won nationals in 2017 and made history in the school! Besides all the fun Friday nights and the trips taken, I will remember all the teachers that helped me get to where I am today as a student and person.

Erica Phipps of Union City

Parents: Crystal and Mark Miller of Union City

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I see myself with a bachelor's degree in nursing from UT Martin. I also see myself with a beautiful family, living in a cute house with my husband.

Alex Quinn of South Fulton

Parents: Gary and Saundra Quinn of South Fulton

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? In 10 years, I see myself being the coolest music teacher ever. I imagine myself teaching at a high school after getting my degree from Austin Peay State University. Along with teaching, I also plan to perform piano for a church and perform in a jazz band.

Savannah Reddin of Kenton

Parents: Cheryl Reddin of Kenton and Steve Reddin of Rives

Question: What will you always remember about high school? I will remember my helpful teachers who pushed me to be my best. I will also always cherish my memories and friends from band. It wasn't always easy, but it was always worth it.

Santiago Rodriguez Jr. of Obion

Parents: Rosa Rodriguez and Santiago Rodriguez

Question: What will you always remember about high school? Something I will always remember were the friends I made. You make so many new friends from playing sports or being in clubs. I will always remember all the fun I had.

Cade Rogers of Martin

Parents: Craig and Patresa Rogers of Martin

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? Not everything is as important as you think. Rolling with the crowd isn't always the right thing to do and you don't need all the people in your circle that you think you do.

Rachel Ross of Union City

Parents: Christina and Bryan Wyrick of Union City

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? My advice for incoming freshmen would be to be involved with everything school-related and stay out of drama.

Olivia Ryan of Union City

Parents: Angela Ryan of Union City and Kevin Ryan of Centennial, Colo.

Question: Where do you imagine yourself 10 years from now? Ten years from now I would be 28 years old and I would be finished with my college. I'd imagine myself having a good, stable job in my career of choice. I would hope to be traveling, learning and living life to the fullest. I'd either be dating or engaged by then, but no children, yet.

Saddie Sanford of Troy

Parents: Paul and Katie Sanford

Question: What advice do you have for incoming freshmen? I want the incoming freshmen to know that high school is not like elementary school; you will make new friends and you will lose friends. High school is the best and also the worst years of your life. You will see fights and you will hear gossip, but the best way to enjoy high school is to ignore it all. Find a friend who's going to keep you on the right path and be here for you and worry about yourself and your future. High school is where you will experience memories you'll never forget, relationships that may last forever or turn into a painful break-up. High school will get stressful at times, but in the end, you'll be proud of yourself.

Amya Siglow of Union City

Parents: Corey Siglow of Union City and Lorrie Siglow of Martin

Question: What will you always remember about high school? High school has been a roller coaster of feelings. Some days were
