Big & Rich

Close your eyes and you're there.

You're there with a few thousand close friends as the house lights suddenly darken, the stage spots flare and two familiar figures walk out to the sound of delirious screams.

With that, Big & Rich prove yet again that nobody rocks the room like they do. Big Kenny in his towering Mad Hatter headgear, John Rich in his trademark black Stetson — together they ignite the night and keep it at full blaze for hours.

Big & Rich are a perfect summer night. They're a wild ride, a hot time in a packed club, fists pumping to an unstoppable beat. They're beach chairs and beers, sand and surf, city thrills and country cool, old friends and new romance.

Since their triple-Platinum debut album Horse Of A Different Color, Big Kenny and John Rich have kept the faith, ramped up their groove, taken an occasional break for solo projects and come back with both guitars blazing. Their run as the ultimate good-time country music duo continues with Did It For The Party — a title that pretty much tells their story.

It's all here: Exhilaration and heartbreak cruise hand-in-hand through "California." "A little George Clinton and a
