

more user-friendly,” Peter explained and went on to say, “Something like a four-wheel drive tractor, a homemade combine, homemade potato harvester, any farm equipment really.”

DIY (do it yourself) has manufactured some of the greatest farm equipment. Farm equipment that didn’t roll out of a factory, but out of a farmer’s shed and right into his field. And rumor has it, the first Steiger Tractor ever built with the same DIY concept will be on display Labor Day weekend.

The first Steiger Tractor rolled out of Douglas and Maurice’s workshop and into their fields in the 1950s and in 1958 they sold their first tractor to a neighbor. The demand grew and before they knew it, they were in business. The Steiger’s tractor line is known
