

back in time one hundred years, you'll need to purchase a ticket. A day pass ticket cost $12 (kids 14 and younger are free) and a season ticket $20 which can be purchased at the gate. The gates open Friday morning, August 31; turning the quiet little farming community of Rollag into a roaring threshing community that will serve thousands of folks from all four corners of the country, our neighbors to the North and from across the Atlantic.

Beyond the gates, it's like another world. Let me rephrase that. It's like another century. Expo hill, where the flags proudly fly, and the Prony brake sparks friction is just one stop on Steamer Hill and where this year's main attraction, the Homebuilt Creations and Galloway Gas engines will be parked. This attraction alone will draw in

Your Greatest Need

"It's hard to imagine a greater need than when your family loses someone...

Our experience with Korsmo was essentially flawless and there isn't anyone in our family who doesn't appreciate what they did for us."
