

for their “neon chartreuse, contrasting with the more subdued yellow, green, blue, red and orange colors used by most other manufacturers.”

If you’ve ventured over to the WMSTR website (www.rollag.com) you’ll notice the excitement is growing. Folks from all over the country are sharing their interesting and incredible homemade tractor stories. And in the past, the Homebuilt Equipment Expo was proven to be a huge success. “We’ve done Homebuilt Equipment before and it was a good turnout. Lots of good stuff came out of the woodwork. It gave people a reason to get grandpa’s old tractor going again,” Peter stated.
