Congratulations, Graduates!

The newspaper's Clearwater School correspondent Brittany Adams is among the 2018 graduates. Thank you for reporting school news for the newspaper!

We have watched the 2018 graduating class grow up. We started reporting the milestones in your life and your successes when you started school. We know some of you better than others, but the newspaper staff is proud of you all. Good luck in life. We leave you with some words of wisdom from Dr. Seuss, "You have brains in your head. You have feet in your shoes. You can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You're on your own. And you know what you know. You are the guy who'll decide where to go."
