

Wind Damage
continued from page 1

BBALL cont from page 1
(At right: AJ #5 JAMIE HINSON MAKING HIS WAY PAST TWO CHESTER PLAYERS TO GET THE BASKET.....AJ BEAT CHESTER 79-70 FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Photo Gwynn Leaird

EG SEAMLESS GUTTERS
DECKS - SIDING
WINDOWS & MORE

CHECK OUT OUR REVIEWS @

(803) 425 - 7160

www.dreamgutters.com

Tommy Northern Agent

124 N. Hampton St.
Kershaw, SC 29067
Bus 803-475-6011
tommy@tommynorthern.com
www.tommynorthern.com

The greatest compliment you can give is a referral

A. O. Smith Habitat For Humanity

More than a dozen A. O. Smith employees recently participated in a Habitat for Humanity build for a Chesterfield County resident in need. This volunteer effort will provide a family with a new home on Murray Lane in McBee.

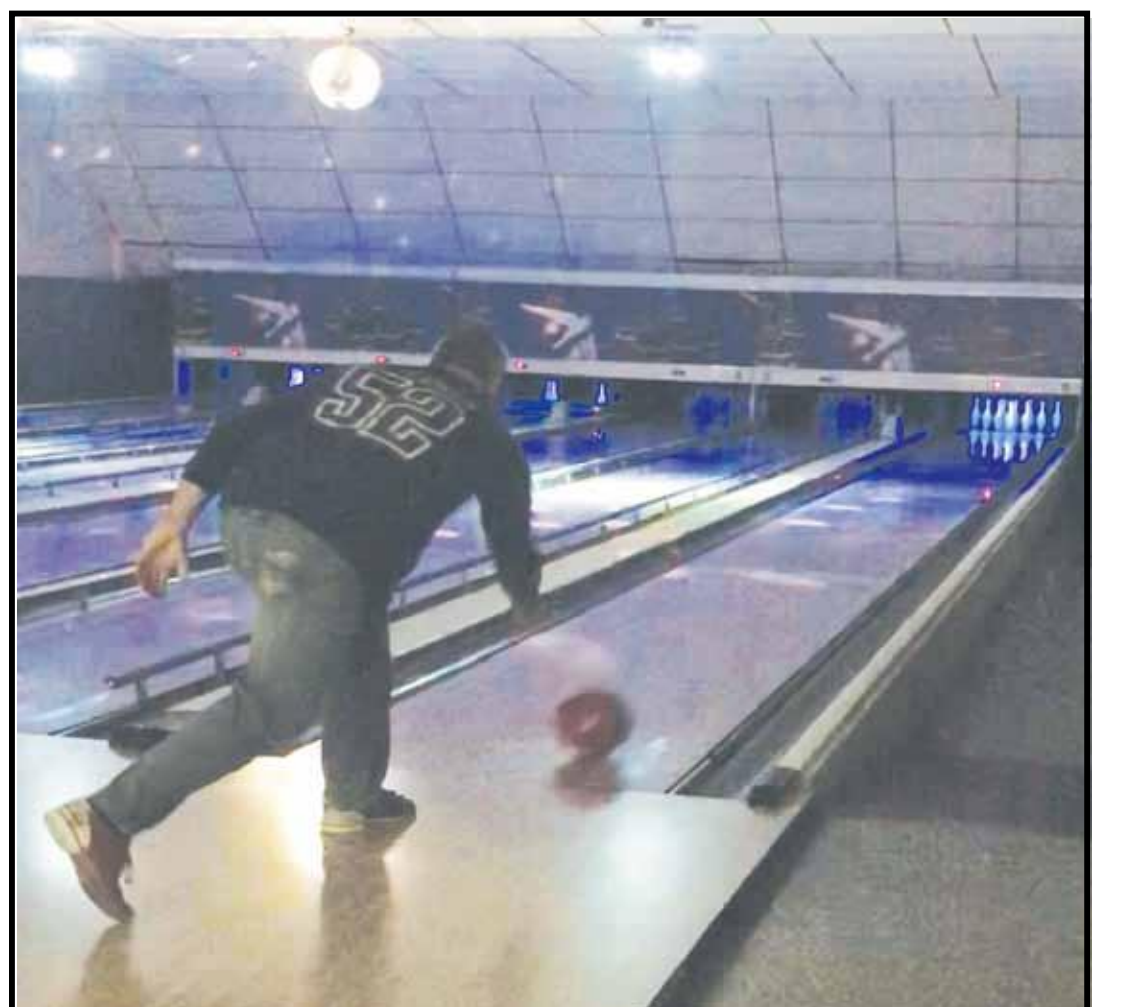

The Claret Book of Murder and Mayhem in Lancaster, Kershaw and Chesterfield Counties

From the pen of Miles Gardner, whose Murder and Mayhem in Old Kershaw: And in Nearby Sections of Lancaster, Kershaw and Chesterfield Counties (2004) and its sequel, Further Tales of Murder and Mayhem in Lancaster, Kershaw and Chesterfield Counties (2006), brought long-buried skeletons out of their closets with their TRUE tales of blood feuds, unholy alliances and star-crossed relationships comes this new and even larger collection of tales. People and events that made the news locally during the past two and a half centuries come back to life in these pages. If you are a local, there's more than a good chance some of them are your relatives and that others are people you knew well (or you know their descendants). Get the lowdown on what Grandma refused to discuss, and find out what neighboring clans have known about your folks for years. With well over three hundred pages of text and with more than two hundred thirty illustrations, most of them never-before-seen photographs from private family or government archives, this volume proves the history of Kershaw and surrounding communities was anything but dull!

The Claret Book of Murder and Mayhem in Lancaster, Kershaw and Chesterfield Counties

LANCASTER COUNTY
South Carolina

New Year's Eve 2018-2019 paired great food with bowling in Kershaw (continued from page 1).