Festival of the Child

Festival of the Child offers wholesome and creative experiences for children.

Yukon event is all about the kids

By Van Mitchell

Yukon will host its annual Festival of the Child on Saturday, May 4 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Yukon City Park, located at 2200 South Holly Avenue in Yukon.

The Festival of the Child is a one day event to celebrate children featuring over 50 areas of fun activities including crafts, kayaking, archery, inflatables pony rides and more, said Jan Scott, director of Yukon Parks and Recreation. All activities are geared for children 12 and under. Adults are free.

"It is a celebration of children," Scott said. "We have over 50 different activities. It's just a fun day for everyone."

Yukon's Festival of the Child was started over 20 years ago as a way to promote wholesome and creative experiences for children and their families.

Scott said the Festival of the Child has become one of Yukon's top family events. It features a vast array of activities including storytelling, art workshops, balloon animals, magic show, wood art and a Festival Fun Zone featuring a slide, mini-golf, moon-bounce and an obstacle course, kayaking and archery.

Pony rides and an area specifically for toddlers will also be on-site.

"We start planning for this in February and it takes place in May," she said. "We couldn't do this without the group of volunteers we have."
