

FFA students recognized for certifications

Green County High School is pleased to recognize sixteen senior students who have achieved Career Readiness. Nine students passed the KOSSA/Kentucky Occupational Skills Standard Exam in the spring of 2018, and seven students earned the Elanco Fundamentals of Animal Science Certification this academic year. Through these intensive certification programs, these students have gained essential career skills which promote a successful transition to postsecondary education and the workforce. Students with these certifications have received the necessary background and knowledge in the animal science, horticulture and agribusiness industries, including the history and practices of the agriculture industry, common terms and terminology and livestock and plant management. To earn these certifications, each student completed the required coursework and passed a rigorous final exam. Endorsed by the Elanco and powered by iCEV, the certification enhances student résumés and helps them stand out to prospective colleges and employers. The certifications reflects current industry standards in order to ensure students are career-ready. "This certification will equip the next generation of animal science professionals with the foundational knowledge they need to advance in the industry," said Todd Armstrong, Beef Business

Director for Elanco. The Elanco certification recipients include: Gavin Brown, Jacob Biggs, Jalynn Pierce, Briley Cox, Catlin Beard, Summer Wright and Pete Davis. The KOSSA and iCEV certifications are the equivalent to the ACT for Career Readiness in Agriculture. The KOSSA completers are Bradley Abell, Austin Beard, Jessica Clark, Slade Davis, Hallie Griffiths, Steven McCarol, Braeden Paxton, Savannah "Savy" Scott and Kobie Wood. For more information about industry certifications powered by iCEV, visit www.icevonline.com/certifications.

FFA chapter stays busy

The freshman class scores deer during hunting season. They were taught how to score a buck.

FFA member Lily Squires attended the Kentucky State Fair, donned in her Miss Barren County Fair attire.

Lt. Governor Jenean Hampton talks with an agriculture class about the Entrepreneurship Project.

Congratulations

and good luck to GCHS FFA

Your loader store offers great values and an excellent selection.

Ferguson Farms is your local Elite Trailer dealer

Koyker Legend Loaders to fit John Deere tractors
542 • 640 • 675 • 740 • 780

Ferguson Farms and Eq LLC

142 Bucknersville Road, Greensburg
270-932-1834 fergusonfarmsllc@gmail.com

GCHS FFA Alumni Megan Newton

is proud to recognize students developing the valuable skills that will lead to successful careers
Congratulations and good luck to all 91 members of Green County FFA

Family Realty & Auction LLC

270-932-9641
513 Columbia Hwy., Greensburg KY

Robby Beard, a member of GCHS FFA 1978-81, and the Green County Sheriff's Department are proud to salute the Green County FFA.

With more than 669,000 FFA members in 8,630 chapters in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands, the National FFA Organization has a strong presence as the largest student-led organization in the nation.

NO VACATION DAYS.
NO SICK DAYS.
NO HOLIDAYS.

● ● ● ● ● ● ● ● ● ●

Thank you farmers, for all that you do.

Proud supporter of the FFA and farmers across Kentucky.

Member FDIC | forchtbank.com

Tom Noe
Market President