YouthFest 2019 is set to begin Friday, March 15 at 6 p.m. CT at Green County Middle School. The event will run through Sunday evening.

YouthFest is in its 16th year in the community. Organizer Majel Harris says the event has witnessed thousands of youth and adults in attendance and she hopes this year is no different.

"It is a great event for students and adults of all ages, races and beliefs," Harris said. "It's a time to encounter the presence of God in a life-changing way."

This year's theme is War Cry and will feature the YouthFest Praise and Worship Band along with special guest Reggie Dabbs.

Dabbs, a motivational public speaker, has been speaking to students in schools for the past 30 years, speaking to millions of people each year.

Dabbs discusses family dynamic, no matter what it may be, and how thankful youth should be that they have families.

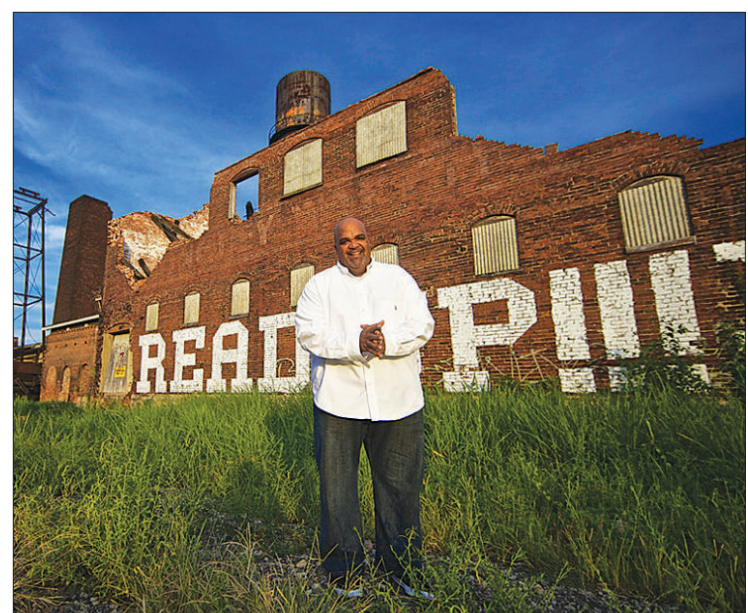

"Today's generation is facing unparalleled hurts, pressures and choices," Dabbs says. "If we can heal those hurts, help in times of pressure and equip students in their choices, we will have better students and a positive school atmosphere. With all students are facing, we must give them hope."

His favorite emphasis is, "You can never change your past, but you can change your future."

According to his bio, Dabbs was born to an unwed teenager who had a less-than-desirable life. Before his birth, his mom lived in a chicken coop in Tennessee until her former teacher, Mrs. Dabbs, took her under her wing.

Widespread flu reported for 10th consecutive week

SPECIAL TO THE R-H

The Department for Public Health, within the Cabinet for Health and Family Services, reports flu activity in Kentucky is at "widespread" for the 10th consecutive week.

Widespread is the highest level of flu activity, indicating increased flu-like activity or flu outbreaks in at least half of the state's regions.

"With the traditional flu season running from October through May, it is not too late for Kentuckians to protect themselves and their families from the flu by getting a flu shot," said Dr. Jeff Howard, DPH Commissioner. "We are urging anyone who hasn't received a flu vaccine, particularly children 6 months and older and those people at high risk for complications related to the flu, to check with doctors' offices, local health departments, pharmacies or other providers about getting the vaccine."

Kentucky is currently reporting 44 flu-related deaths for the 2018-19 flu season. For the 2017-18 flu season, Kentucky reported a total of 333 flu-related deaths.

It takes about two weeks after the getting the shot for a person to develop protection from the flu. Flu can be very contagious. Infection with the flu virus can cause fever, headache, cough, sore throat, runny nose, sneezing and body aches.
